70th Year—177

AT THE END of a five-week, 20,000-mile trip Dr. Milton Eisenhower (right), brother of President Eisenhower, tells the President that he found "unprecedented friendliness" toward the United States on a tour of South America. He later refused to tell newsmen about his talks with President Juan Peron of Argentina, one of the 10 republics he visited as the President's personal envoy.

U. S. Near Major Production Of Materials For 'Hell-Bomb'

Allies Report Red Warplanes Move South

No Formal Complaint Is Registered With Commie Negotiators

MUNSAN (AP) — Allied radar tracked large numbers of Communist warplanes southward from Manchuria to North Korea bases after the cease-fire deadline Monday night, it was reported today as the Reds complained of two more minor U. N. truce violations.

U. S. Air Force officers said the Red planes, presumably MIG jets, were spotted by a big Allied radar station on Cho Island, deep behind Communist lines off North Korea. The story was delayed for 24 hours by censors. The Allies made no formal complaint to the Reds.

An officer said the Communist planes began taking off at dark, apparently from Manchurian bases safe from Allied attack, and were still landing at North Korean fields after the 10 p. m. deadline when all arms and armaments shipments into Korea were to have stopped.

Allied planes have bombed North Korean air bases continually, but an Air Force officer said "apparently we didn't leave the fields non-operational."

Meanwhile, the joint Military Armistice Commission picked Saturday as the tentative date for the first face-to-face meeting of Swedish, Swiss, Polish and Czech officers who will police the flow of men and arms into Korea.

RED CROSS workers from six nations convened in Pannumjon to chart the role they will play in helping repatriate nearly 90,000 prisoners of war starting next Wednesday.

Staff officers handling the prisoner exchange met in Pannumjon to put finishing touches on plans for the huge operation as the first group of Communist prisoners landed at Inchon en route to camps where they will await exchange.

Ike Asking Congressional Leaders To Increase Limit On Federal Debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today recommended an increase in the $275 billion national debt limit, but a decision as to whether the issue will be pressed in this session of Congress was left open at a White House conference of legislative leaders.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders met with the President at a breakfast session which ran 2 hours and 15 minutes.

Sen. Knowland of California, acting Senate Republican leader, said the President and his aides laid before them the "fiscal facts of life" but emphasized there was no commitment by the legislative leaders of either party.

He and others said the leaders of both parties will hold further consultations at the Capitol before making any decision.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Senate Finance Committee put it this way:

"The President, his secretary of the Treasury, and his budget director believe it is necessary to increase the limit. They put it up to the committee chairmen and leaders who will canvass opinion."

Any such proposal seemed certain to stir an angry row that could knock ailing Congress plans for adjournment Friday.

White House concern was indicated by the invitation to Democratic as well as Republican leaders to join the meeting. Normally only Republicans attend.

The debt ceiling now is $275 billion and the red ink figure already is pushing against the lid, at $272 billion. The next six months is a period of low tax receipts when spending seems certain to far outstrip income, and more borrowing will be needed.

Republican leaders said they thought the plan could be pushed quickly through the House, but several members of the Ways and Means Committee said the proposal would require several days of hearings and would delay adjournment.

All 13 of the regular government money bills have passed the House and all but one of them have passed the Senate. Ten have gone to President Eisenhower for signature. Two, counting foreign aid, are in Senate-House conference committees.

Pending when the Senate started work today was the remaining one: a $649,725,000 catch-all measure which carries funds for the overseas information program and for civil defense.

Two money bills, both Senate-House compromises, were cleared to the President's desk yesterday. They provide $34,371,541,000 for the defense establishment and $96,187,351 for Congress itself and the federal judiciary.

At this stage, it appeared Congress would wind up by slicing about $12.7 billion off former President Truman's budget requests and about $3.1 billion off Eisenhower's revised budget.

But this was cold comfort in view of the bleak fiscal picture for the year which started July 1, although the cuts in appropriations may help to balance the budget in future years.

Much of the spending this year will be out of past appropriations. Thus it is not affected by the amounts Congress voted this year.

Hartman Takes Over City Schools Monday; Teacher Duties Listed

Assignments of teachers in Circleville's city school system for the 1953-54 school year were announced Thursday.

The announcement of teacher placement was made jointly by Frank Fischer, who is retiring from the position of superintendent, and by George A. Hartman, Circleville's new superintendent.

The joint announcement marked one of the last official actions of Fischer and one of the first official actions of Hartman.

Hartman is to begin his duties as superintendent here Monday. He has been superintendent of the Carey exempted village schools for the last eight years.

GEORGE HARTMAN
New Superintendent

THE NEW superintendent was graduated by Walnut Township High School and received his training in education at Ohio University and Ohio State University.

Fischer is retiring from the superintendency after serving 19 years in that position. He taught one year before taking over the superintendency post.

However, Fischer will continue as a member of the Circleville faculty. His teaching assignment for the coming school year is to teach conservation in grade eight and algebra.

Circleville's schools this year will begin Sept. 8. Principals of the city schools are to meet on Labor Day.

This year, there will be two rooms of grade one in the new Atwater Ave. elementary school. The fourth grade of Atwater school will move to High St. school, and the former sixth grade at High St. will move to Corwin St. school to make room for the new fourth grade.

In all, Mr. Hartman will supervise a teaching staff of 72 persons in five elementary buildings and the high school. Kindergarten classes will be held in Atwater, Walnut and Franklin schools.

Democrats Outnumber GOP In OKing Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, led by the Democrats, early today voted $6,745,318,202 in foreign aid to climax a 15½-hour, oral-forty-packed session in which all efforts to slash the total were rejected.

Senate representatives now must work out a compromise settlement with those of the House, which pruned more than $1 billion from President Eisenhower's request for funds to help the free world combat communism.

By a thumping 69-10 margin, after beating off six attempts to cut it down, the Senate stamped approval on a big money bill containing $548 million more than voted by the House.

If the Senate-House compromise follows the pattern recently set in the rush to adjourn by this weekend, the final total probably will be $6½ billion, including about $4.5 billion in new funds for the year which began July 1, and $2 billion in unpledged money from previous appropriations.

ON FINAL Senate passage, 37 Democrats outnumbered 31 Republicans who shouted approval along with the lone independent. Opposing was one Democrat and nine Republicans.

While a half-billion more than voted by the House, the $6,745,318,202 total was a half-billion less than requested by Eisenhower and $3 billion below what former President Truman asked.

Passage of the bill, containing exactly the sum recommended by the Senate Appropriations Committee, was considered an administrative triumph by Acting Leader Knowland of California, Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Appropriations Committee and Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), who conceded he had bitterly fought similar measures under Democratic presidents.

Knowland hit hard on the theme that any additional cuts in the foreign aid program might cause "ruthless men in the Kremlin" to believe the United States and the free world are weakening.

"If we do stand firm, no man can tell whether the stresses and strains may bring godless communism crashing down," he said.

AEC Gives Report To Congress On Work On Hydrogen Weapon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced today it is approaching "first major production" of materials for hydrogen "hell bombs" and said that in the first half of 1953 development of atomic weapons has "substantially advanced."

It said more fissionable material, the stuff which produces the explosive power of A-bombs, was produced than in any previous half-year.

The government announced also that it is working toward development of a super-speed atomic powered submarine even before tests have been run on two A-bus now nearing completion and rated potentially faster than ordinary undersea craft.

The Atomic Energy Commission, which runs the nation's atomic program, said in its semi-annual report to Congress that last spring's weapons tests in Nevada disclosed such valuable information that it will not be necessary to hold full-scale tests there this fall, as originally planned.

THOSE TESTS, the commission said, indicated "several very profitable avenues to new and improved weapons" which would afford "the opportunity of substantially greater atomic weapons capability for the United States."

It said the tests of the 11 shot the spring series, a detonation of observers as the most useful yet set off in this country had "obviated the necessity of a full-scale test series originally planned in Nevada for the fall of 1953."

Without further reference to the power of the 11th shot, the commission said it "emphasized the value of the continental test site in that it permitted the shot to be scheduled, fired and the data returned to the laboratory all within the space of one month, thus enhancing the speed of weapon development activities."

"Research continued to be directed at improvement of current weapon models and the de-

Parents Jailed In Robbery Case

COSHOCKTON (AP) — A Coshocton couple, parents of four, today received jail sentences of 10-25 years for helping a 14-year-old boy commit three robberies.

William H. Carte, 36, and his wife, Helen, 32, were sentenced in common pleas court on three counts of aiding Gordon Firman, 16, sleeping truck driver in Coshocton County last June.

Firman is serving time in Boys Industrial School near Lancaster. The Cartes drew a 10-25 year term in the robbery of James E. Banks and Lorin Wharton of Washington C. H. and a concurrent 1-15 year term in the robbery and assault of Thomas V. Brown of Slippery Rock, Pa.

Swimmer Lost

COLUMBUS (AP) — Glenn Meggs, 27, drowned last night in the Scioto River at O'Shaughnessy Dam when he dove from a boat in a vain attempt to swim to shore.

He says he's an American. He claims he just didn't bother to get a passport when he went to China 25 years ago.

The U. S. State Department denies he's a citizen. And the Justice Department has said he was deported by the United States as a result of assault, robbery and burglary convictions. The Justice Department said his true name is Steve Ragan.

Several Ragans in the United States claimed him for a brother, but nothing came of their actions.

Stateless Ex-Bartender Gets Off Ferry After 10 Months

HONG KONG (AP) — Michael Patrick O'Brien finally made it ashore.

After 10 months and 12 days, the 57-year-old man without a country today left the 6-foot brig of the Portuguese Macao-Hong Kong ferry Lee Hong. He'd traveled at least 12,500 miles — the equivalent of a trip halfway round the world — sailing between the two ports.

But the ex-bartender and marine engineer wasn't going anywhere, yet. Police took him in custody and refused to reveal

2 Undeclared Armies Leave Narrow Strip Of Battleline

SEOUL (AP) — Two undeclared armies—Allied and Red—walked away from the Korean front today, leaving in silence a narrow strip that only days ago was rocked by gunfire.

Under armistice terms all troops had to be out of the 2-mile-wide belt by 10 p. m. tonight. The Army said most of the Allied front was uninhabited seven hours before the deadline.

Allied soldiers — Americans, South Koreans and other troops of 15 other lands—started leaving the battleline shortly after the truce was signed Monday morning. The guns fell silent Monday night.

Columns of soldiers walked down from hills they had fought and sold in blood:

Heartbreak Ridge . . . White Horse Mountain . . . Old Baldy, Pork Chop Hill . . . Bunker Hill . . . The Hook . . . Outposts Vegas, Harry, Berlin and East Berlin.

Going to the hills they crept along under blazing Red guns in the infantryman's wary, crouching walk.

When they came down they walked upright, with no fear.

At the southern edge of the demilitarized zone, the Allied soldiers strung barbed wire and set up roadblocks to prevent anyone from entering.

The zone will be policed by members of the Military Armistice Commission at Panmunjom.

The Allied command strung signs all along the border saying, "South Limits Demilitarized Zone. Do Not Enter." The signs are in English and Korean.

Young Methodist Minister Denies Any Tie To Commies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Jack Richard McMichael told the House Un-American Activities Committee today he is not now and never has been a member of the Communist party.

McMichael made the statement under oath at a gavel-banging clearing into charges that he had been a Communist. He previously had denied it to newsmen.

He accused the committee of "circulating false charges" against him, describing himself as a "little town preacher."

The 36-year-old Methodist minister from Upper Lake, Calif., began trading verbal punches with committee members soon after counsel Robert L. Kunzig started questioning him about a deposition from two undercover agents.

Rep. Moulder (D-Mo.) accused the witness of evasion in his reply, which came only after he took time out to scan his personal diary for 1940.

McMichael, minutes later, accused Rep. Clardy (R-Mich.) of "trying to trick or trap me."

The witness objected time and again to Kunzig's reading of a six-page deposition taken last month in Cincinnati from Martha N. Edmiston and John J. Edmiston who described themselves as members of the Communist party in 1940 and 1941 in the hire of the FBI.

The Edmistons stated they met McMichael while they were delegates to the Ohio Youth Conference in Columbus in 1940, which they said was Communist-controlled.

"That doesn't refresh my memory," said the Georgia-born preacher emphatically. "Not in the slightest."

McMichael testified today he at-

Industrialist, 81, Bound To Jury

AKRON (AP) — An 81-year-old Cleveland industrialist was free under $1,000 bond today after being held for grand jury action in a fatal traffic case.

David W. Frackleton, president of Chandler & Price Co., was bound to the grand jury yesterday on a second degree manslaughter charge. He was at the wheel of his car when it leaped a curb last May and killed Mrs. Lulu H. Alderfer, welfare director in neighboring Medina County. The victim was walking on the sidewalk.

District Chiefs Ask New Hearing

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District has asked the Ohio Supreme Court to reconsider a decision which threatened to hold up completion of conservancy projects.

The court recently held that conservancy levies are taxes rather than assessments and must be voted on either by the people or by county commissioners. Therefore, the court refused to require county auditors to levy a 3-10 mill district tax on property in their counties.

Red China OKd

LONDON (AP) — Acting Foreign Secretary Lord Salisbury said today Britain believes Communist China should receive United Nations membership "when the time is right."

Allies Report Reds Warplanes Move South

Maj. Gen. Blackshear M. Bryan, head of the five-man U. N. team on the joint Military Armistice Commission, said today's meeting "went quite smoothly."

But the Reds accused the Allies of two more true violations. Both involved U. N. aircraft which allegedly circled over the demilitarized zone.

A U. N. spokesman said Bryan "noted the allegations and will deal with them the same way as he did the allegations made yesterday. We will announce the results of our investigations later."

Wednesday the Reds violated the U. N. of eight minor violations of the three-day-old armistice. Bryan called the Communist charges unsubstantiated and asked for further information.

Senator Taft Resting Well In Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft was reported "resting comfortably" as he awaited the arrival at his hospital bedside today of his son, Ambassador William Howard Taft III.

William Howard Taft III, ambassador to Ireland and son of the senator, arrived at Idlewild Airport at 10:20 a. m. EST from Shannon to visit his father.

Two other Taft sons, Robert A. Jr., and Lloyd, visited the senator this morning prior to the arrival of their ambassador brother.

Sen. Taft's wife, Martha, was reported to have returned to Washington yesterday. She visited him at New York Hospital Tuesday after he took a turn for the worse.

The latest official word from the hospital, issued last night and signed by Dr. Claude E. Forkner—was that Taft was "resting comfortably" and that there had been no change in his condition since yesterday morning.

A hospital bulletin issued at 5 p. m. yesterday said Taft "had a better day" than on Tuesday.

Yesterday morning's bulletin reported the 63-year-old Republican majority leader from Ohio was "somewhat improved."

'Subversive Bills' OK'd By Lausche

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today signed into law four subversive control bills.

One continues the life of the Un-American Activities Commission through next January. Another makes it grounds for dismissal for state employees to refuse to answer questions of legitimate investigating bodies about their fitness to hold their jobs. And the third provides for dismissal of public employees including school teachers who knowingly belong to subversive organizations.

velopment of new models to meet the requirements of the armed forces," the AEC report added. Dated June 30, it covered the first six months of this year.

The report said the previously announced decision to add Bikini Atoll to the Eniwetok proving grounds in the Pacific was made "to provide flexibility in testing new and improved nuclear weapons." Bikini, 180 miles east of Eniwetok, was used in 1946.

The AEC also told Congress that: 1. Both foreign and domestic production and exploration for uranium ore for the United States was stepped up during the last six months.

2. Production of fissionable materials for bombs and other uses "considerably exceeded" that of any previous period—and at the lowest costs in AEC's history "despite increases in wages and material prices."

3. New facilities entered the production stream. These included a new plant at Fernald, Ohio, for processing uranium ore; portions of new plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn. and Paducah, Ky., for separating bomb-useful uranium from uranium as it occurs in nature, and supporting facilities for the plant at Savannah River, S. C., where materials for either A-bombs or H-bombs will be made.

Regarding the latter plant, the AEC said "Some of the supporting facilities at Savannah River are already in operation, preparing materials for start-up of the first major production units at that site."

4. The AEC is investigating new methods of uranium exploration, among them the examination of growing plants which might provide a tipoff on the presence of the metal. It is also investigating the potentialities of low - grade sources of uranium, including phosphates and shales.

The report said construction of a plant in the field of military application of atomic energy will be completed this summer at Rocky Flats, near Denver, Colo. Portions of this plant already are in operation. The AEC has described it only as a secret production facility involving radioactive material.

The commission said one of the two atomic power plants being developed for submarine use had already generated "substantial amounts of power" in tests, and the AEC added:

"Design work . . . is underway for developing an advanced nuclear power plant for a submarine of significantly higher speed than the first two nuclear-powered submarines."

Former President Truman, in speaking at the keel laying of the first atomic - powered submarine, Nautilus, said it would have a submerged speed of "more than 20 knots." This compares with 15 to 17 knots for orthodox subs. Unofficial estimates have been that the Nautilus might attain a speed of 30 knots.

The AEC reiterated it had

County Woman Hangs Self On Tree At Home

Mrs. Peggy Lee Cupp, 35, of Stoutsville Route 1, was found hanging dead from the limb of a tree at her home at about 6:30 a. m. Thursday. Her body was discovered by her husband, Woodrow Cupp.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff said Mrs. Cupp had tied a rope to the limb of a tree, knotted it around her neck and then stepped from a bucket. Dr. Ray Carroll, Pickaway County coroner, ruled the death a suicide.

Radcliff said the victim had been ill and despondent. She had been receiving medical attention.

Mrs. Cupp was born in Johnson County, Ky., daughter of Albert and Julia Sparks Smith. She was married in 1937.

SURVIVING her in addition to her husband is a daughter, Norma, at home; her parents, living in Circleville; three brothers, Van Smith, Zed Smith and Charlie Smith, all of Circleville; and five sisters, Mrs. Ada Collins, Mrs. Nellie Smith, Mrs. Ellere Stant, Mrs. Sena Wagner and Mrs. Rilda Ferguson, all of Circleville.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in Defenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. John Hurst officiating. Burial will be in Reber Hill cemetery.

Friends may call in the funeral home after Friday noon.

Trio Of Drivers Fined $265 Here

A trio of traffic violators was fined a total of $265 and costs Wednesday before the court of Mayor Ed Amey.

Topping the list of offenders was Charles Huffer Jr., 33, of Orient, who was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail for drunken driving. Huffer was arrested following a minor accident on E. Corwin St. by Police Sgt. Alva Shasteen and Officer Leroy Hawks.

Thomas Swaughner of Dayton was fined $50 and costs for driving with fictitious plates. He was arrested on Route 22 by State Patrolman Gene Miller.

Denver Corkwell, 41, of Grove City, was fined $15 and costs for having insufficient brakes on the truck he was driving. He was arrested by Shasteen and Hawks following a minor accident on N. Court St.

Doctor, Dentist Killed In Crash

CLEVELAND (AP)—A doctor and a dentist were killed today when their small private plane crashed in flames near Olmsted Falls.

The victims were Dr. James Keane, a physician from nearby Fairview Park, and Dr. George Zamba, a dentist from suburban North Olmsted. The pair took off from Cleveland Hopkins Airport at 6 a. m., apparently headed for Mansfield.

ed to Rhee and he indicated disapproval. However, although formal U. S. policy toward Korea is presently developing along different lines, the neutralization idea is considered to be still open.

DULLES is going to Korea for the stated purpose of negotiating with Rhee on the kind of security treaty which the United States and South Korea should make.

Dulles' problem is either (A) to try to discover some formula for quick negotiation of Korean unity at the conference starting by late October, or (B) to try to persuade Rhee to give up his idea of going to war again to achieve unification by force. American officials believe Rhee could not do that without powerful assistance, which they say he would not have.

The possibility of bargaining with the Reds to give up North Korea appears virtually nonexistent. This situation has stimulated fresh interest in the idea of neutralization.

GOPsters In Dixie Feudin' But A Party May Be Forming

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dixie Republicans are feudin', fussin' and fightin' among themselves today in political skirmishes which may prove to be the sound effects heralding a genuine two-party system in the long-Democratic Southland—someday.

From the plains of Texas into Virginia's Shenandoah Valley there is a stir of Republican hopes and activity.

Much of it is merely talk. But an Associated Press survey of 14 Southern and border states shows that beneath the talk and the factional turmoil there is a solidly based effort in many of the states to challenge the Democrats at the grass roots level.

President Eisenhower's smashing victory last November gave impetus to the move. It hasn't subsided into the do-nothing lethargy that followed Herbert Hoover's victory in some Southern states over Democrat Al Smith a quarter of a century ago.

Yet the reports make it clear the Republicans have a long, uphill fight before they can achieve any widespread effectiveness in local and state elections—the key-stones of party strength.

The big question still is whether the Democrats who voted for Eisenhower will shift their party allegiance to the Republicans or will quietly return to the Democratic fold.

Democratic Gov. Gordon Persons of Alabama says: "The next Republican candidate in Alabama will find out his name is not Eisenhower."

That is the general attitude among the Democrats, but Republicans contend Eisenhower's victory showed the South is ready for a two-party system.

Eisenhower swept Texas, Virginia, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Missouri and Florida out of their normal Democratic voting habits. He missed by small margins in Kentucky, Louisiana and South Carolina.

Since then, Republicans in some of the states have been busy fighting among themselves for power and patronage, giving little effort to build up the party organization.

Ben Ray, Alabama Democratic state chairman, puts it this way: "Eisenhower brought home the bacon for the Republicans, but when he put it on the table, they didn't know how to cut it."

That is an apt description of what has happened in some states. It doesn't hold true throughout. Let's look at what is happening in Texas, Florida, Tennessee and Virginia—the four "Solid South" states that went Republican last fall:

Texas
AP's Austin correspondent, Dave Cheavens, writes: "Texas Republicans are looking with lustful eyes on one U. S. Senate seat and half a dozen House places they think they might win in 1954.

"But their enthusiastic plans to nail down and clinch their history-making victory with Dwight D. Eisenhower will not be confined to a flashy drive for major offices.

"They are already deep into a door-to-door precinct organization campaign that has as its objective a militant, long-lasting machine to stifle. They are playing patronage for all its political power. Their knives are out and already working on Democratic appointees."

This new organization is headed by GOP National Committeeman H. J. (Jack) Porter, wealthy Houston oilman. His plan is to appeal to all who regard themselves as conservatives to join the GOP camp.

Cheavens says: "Sometimes the shades of difference in the political philosophy of conservative Democrats and Republicans in Texas are so slight as to be barely perceptible."

Porter and his aides already are raising money for 1954. They are bringing new blood into the organization, setting up organizations from precincts to state senatorial districts, and looking for respected citizens to run as Republicans for local, district and state offices.

Porter has announced, too, the Texas GOP is looking for a strong candidate to oppose Democratic

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, who is up for re-election next year.

Some Democrats are being asked to file as candidates of both parties in 1954. Texas law permits this. And if a candidate should be beaten in the Democratic primary, he still would have a chance to be elected in November as the Republican candidate for the same job.

Florida
From Tallahassee, Correspondent Malcolm B. Johnson writes: "Republicans think they're on the way to establishing a two-party system in Florida, and Democratic leaders are wondering if it might not be true."

"Despite the remnants of an old, intense intraparty squabble that has lately flared up in what may be a final battle over patronage rights, leaders of the Republican majority faction are confident they are on the way to bigger things."

"While trying to beat down the rebellious group they are missing few tricks in their effort to consolidate the other varied interests that backed the party ticket in 1952 and build up strength for the congressional and local elections in 1954."

Johnson said party leaders publicly talk hopefully of winning four of the eight seats in Congress

Couple's 4 Sons Win Their Wings

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Querns have set an Air Force record: four of their sons won commissions as fighter pilots.

Lt. Paul E. Querns received his wings this month. Capt. James Querns and 1st Lt. Robert Querns are veterans of World War II. Second Lt. William B. Querns was killed when his plane crashed in 1949.

Maj. Gen. Robert E. L. Easton, director of the Pentagon's legislative division, confirmed the quartet was an all-time record.

Teenage Vandals' Parents To Pay

CLEVELAND (AP)—A vandalism spree by six Cleveland Heights teenagers will cost their parents $5,000.

Juvenile Court Judge William J. McDermott ordered the parents Tuesday to split a $5,000 bill and pay their shares by Aug. 18, when their sons will be sentenced.

Six other youths took part in the incidents, committed in Cleveland Heights, Rocky River and University Heights. Judge McDermott put four of the boys on probation.

next year—but "some of them say privately they'll be happy with one and overjoyed with two." Florida hasn't had a Republican congressman since carpetbagger days.

GRIPS WITH REALITY

STATE DEPARTMENT'S PLAN to offer arms aid to Arab governments bespeaks a heartening trend to come to grips with the realities of international developments. It has been recognized for some time that America's strategic air bases in North Africa actually are sitting ducks for a Communist thrust across the relatively defenseless Middle East.

But, while pouring millions of dollars into African air installations, this country has done little except wait passively for Egypt to come to terms with Britain over control of the Suez Canal, and with Israel, over their long simmering war.

With these squabbles out of the way, the plan had been for Egypt to serve as a keystone in a Middle East defense alliance consisting of the rest of the Arab states. But this first line of African defense is as remote now as it was two years ago. And so the U. S. proposes to go it alone—to make separate agreements with the Arab bloc of nations in order to plug the gap.

This may not be as satisfactory as a cohesive coalition, but it represents action in an area where action is direly needed. If Africa is to become a springboard from which to react effectively to Soviet aggression, realism must play a greater part in the over-all planning.

DEBT RIDES AGAIN

IN ADDITION TO being certain that a vast cultural bog extends west of the Hudson and that cowboys and Indians are still decimating each other in the great plains states (for benefit of TV), New Yorkers have long been convinced of the immutability of the nickel subway ride.

Disillusionment first set in five years ago when the high cost of riding sent the fare to 10 cents. Now with another five-cent increase in effect, the lamentation has been penetrating and profound.

New York subways lately have been as much ridden by debt as by people. Last year's $50 million deficit was so startling that Governor Dewey decided to take a hand. The legislature gave Father Knickerbocker enough additional taxing authority to get back into the black on the condition that the subways would be turned over to an independent transit authority.

Removed from politics, the new commission was free to act. Within a year it expects to climb out of the red and to begin making desperately needed improvements.

The time may even come when N. Y. subway platforms will be spotless and uncluttered, the cars light, airy and uncrowded, and the riders orderly and unbattered. The

These Days

In the history of China, vast expanses of non-Chinese territories were conquered. Again, a Chinese empire is being resurrected and the present rulers, like their Russian masters, seek to re-establish their country to the outermost boundaries ever held by the Chinese, even if the countries were taken by force, and even if the claims have lain dormant for centuries.

Remote is the empire of Kublai Khan, the Mongol, who ruled from the Black Sea to the Pacific (1214-1294). The Mongols were not Chinese, but the conquerors of China, and their Yuan dynasty did not last long. Nor were the Mongols absorbed by the Chinese, as we are so often incorrectly told, on the theory that China is a sea that saltens all waters.

The Mongols receded, degenerated and, like some animals in the Winter, hibernated until World War I and the Russian revolution stirred Asia to new life. Such peoples as the Mongols, the Uzbeks, the Kazakhs, emerged anew, vigorously asserting themselves. These, of course, Communist China will not attempt to conquer as long as Mao Tze-tung remains a satellite of the Kremlin.

But the remote boundaries of Chienlung (1736-96) lie open for conquest and restoration to China. Chienlung was the greatest of the Manchu emperors, representing a race of Tatars who emerged out of Manchuria, conquered China, held Mongolia, established a suzerainty over Korea, Tibet, Burma and Annam (a part of Indo-China) and held for a while Nepal and Bhutan. Then the Manchus degenerated.

It is to the boundaries of Chienlung that Mao Tze-tung is pushing and his conquest of North Korea, in a major war against the United States, is the second step in the restoration of this empire. The first was the bloodless conquest of Tibet, over which Great Britain and India also once claimed authority. The third step will be Burma where the only resistance thus far has been a remnant of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists. The Burmese alone cannot withstand the Chinese Communist hordes.

The conquest of these vast areas involves not only "face" but also assures Communist China of a food supply. For the rice of Indo-China and Siam (Thailand) are essential to the Chinese economy, and it is clear geographically and politically that Thailand must go as Indo-China goes.

The element of "face" in this complex is enormous, for the Chinese are an intensely nationalistic people, believing that their long history is evidence of superior qualities. They do not, in their own language, speak of their country as China but as Chung Hua, the Middle Kingdom, the center of the universe. Repressed by the Western powers since 1842, after they lost the Opium War, as it is called, they never gave up the fight for full independence.

This independence they have at last achieved, as regards the West but not as regards Soviet Russia, because, from every Asiatic standpoint, they have won the Korean War, won it fighting not only the mightiest of Western powers, the United States, but 15 other countries that moved into the fray as part of the United Nations.

SYNOPSIS
Having imbibed unwisely while attending a convention away from home, successful businessman David Barton awakens unsteadily in a small hotel room. His slumber had been disturbed by bad dreams, but bad dreams had been usual with him ever since the bitterness of grief had so completely engulfed him. It was the grief he told himself, which caused him to drink too much. He who'd always been a sober fellow! David's family and friends had begun to worry gravely over his strange conduct and he was proving a new barb in the gentle heart of his good wife, Emily. At home once more and suffering with a severe cold, "Dad" David resolves to be done with the drinking business, now and forever.

CHAPTER FOUR

FINALLY, Dave consulted Dr. Elwood, who said: "Would you care to tell me about your son? Or would you rather not, as yet?" Dave said: "I've talked about him ever since he was born, and ever since he died, at school, of a disease we thought was about licked. Pneumonia, suppose you know my firm sells the drugs that lick it."

"Yes." "Perhaps I know what you're thinking. Pete's talked with me about it. That's not the reason. I'm not, I expect, that rational. Of course I can't help wondering—no, resenting. It's like, say, you made the best lifebelt in the world and someone you loved drowned wearing it. There have been other cases which didn't respond, a percentage. The miracle doesn't always come off. Oh, sure, I asked why about that too. Why in, say, a thousand cases? Tim's? But there is an answer, you medical men know it. I know it. For it was explained to me."

"Atypical." "That's it. Atypical. I can take that. I can take anything with an answer. But it goes beyond that. Why should Tim's case be atypical?"

"You were going to tell me about Tim," the doctor said, not answering.

"He was—he'd been—17 for a few weeks, last fall. He would have graduated this past June. My father, graduated from Daleway, my brother and I did. Family routine. I think Tim was better than any of us. He was all the things that sound sappy and are the reverse—good, kind, decent, fair. He had a sense of justice, and humor to match. He couldn't see anyone or anything hurt. Took up for kids who couldn't fight back, and animals. . . I haven't said what he looked like? He was reasonably good looking, I suppose. Perhaps his mother and I thought more than that. But not actually. He looked like us both, and then again, not. As tall as I am, and thin. I could tell you about him till Doomsday."

"I'm here to listen." Sooner or later he and Dr. Elwood had to get around to Emily. Nothing so far had been as bad, yet even in trying to explain it there was a certain lightening of the burden, in itself a minor miracle. Dave talked with silence between sentences, and the doctor listened, his bright blue eyes concentrated on the man across the desk. After a while it was he who talked and his patient who listened.

A week later, in Elwood's office, he said: "I'm not coming back. I've a lot to thank you for, you've helped me more than I can say in one, to me, very important respect. I'm grateful. But now I have to go it alone for a time."

He talked with Emily and George, took a leave of absence, and drove alone to Vermont to see his mother in the white house in which she had been born. Her distant cousin Kate was there, brisk and cheerful, and, said Mrs. Barton, in welcome, "We're glad you came, it's about time."

Isabel Barton was tall and spare. She stood and sat erect. Her eyes and plentiful hair were gray. There was humor on her lips and in her face great strength, reserve and courage, and hard-won serenity. Dave stayed three days, spent in good talk and company and blessed by good food.

She told him, "Dave, you can't bury yourself with Tim."

"I know. But I have," he said hopelessly.

"Roots. Yours in Tim. You had to pull them up, but you didn't. I loved your father, and I love you boys and the children; and many others. But I'm not rooted in one person any more than I'm rooted in one spot. The real roots go with you everywhere. In God, they are. I tried to teach you that. Pity you didn't learn it."

When Dave was leaving, his mother said: "Give my love to Emily and all. You'll be home tonight?"

"Can't say, mother. I may stop off at Daleway."

"If you do," she said, "remember me to Dr. Newton. Want me to call Emily?"

"No, dear, thanks—I might change my mind. I'll call her from some place along the road."

Two hours later, from a drug store, he called Emily to say that he would break the trip at the school.

"That's fine," she said.

Daleway was old, the heart of an old village. According to no particular plan, the gray-stone buildings rose on either side of the road. They were in classic good taste, enlivened by ivy, still green, by woodbine starting to glow ruby-red.

He stopped the car by the roadside across from the building that contained senior classrooms, library, and the Head's study. Up the street, the chapel. There had been a memorial service there for Tim. Dave had not been present on that day, he was in New York and sudden. Emily had gone, with excuses, George, and Maria.

Beyond the chapel was the infirmary, which now had a new sunroom with a bronze plate bearing Tim's name upon one wall. A gift from Tim's parents.

I didn't attend the service, so I gave a sunroom.

He looked at the buildings, the people intent upon their own concerns. He knew that Old Boys were welcome here, whenever the Head was in residence. Perhaps (Dave hoped) he wasn't now. If he isn't, I'll leave a message and go on. If he is, he'll expect me to stay. I suppose he'll put me up in Goethe Hall; there's always a room there for visiting friends. He'd never let me go to the inn.

Almost a year ago when he and Emily had stayed at Daleway they'd been—how many days? two? three?—in the Headmaster's home.

He got out, crossed the road, climbed the bank, and went up the path a little way. Then stopped, shaking and sickened. Why did I come? he asked himself in desperation, and turned to retrace his steps. Why am I here?

It was too late; someone stopped and spoke his name: a middle-aged woman, slender and halting, wearing the sort of tweed suit that during her 20 years as the Head's secretary she had all ways worn.

"Mr. Barton," she cried, and put out her hand, "this must be telephatic. There's a letter to you on my desk, waiting for signature. Come right in with me. Dr. Newton has callers but they won't stay long—and he'll be so happy to see you."

"I was just passing by, Miss Stark," he said, "so stopped, on the off chance that he'd be back."

"It wasn't a chance, at this time of year, as you should know. Mrs. Newton is still in Maine closing the cottage. And parents are arriving like locusts."

Radioactive Substances Used As a Weapon Against Disease

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE mushrooming clouds of radioactive material over the atomic testing grounds reflect the growing horror at the destruction connected with atomic weapons. But radioactivity, it is pleasing to note, has been used some time now in research, diagnosis, and the cure of many medical diseases.

One of the radioactive substances, radioactive phosphorus, or P32 as it is known scientifically, has been used to treat certain cases of leukemia and other blood diseases.

Contamination Measured

It has been shown that, when certain bacteria are exposed to P32, they retain this radioactivity. Since this quality can be easily and precisely measured, an accurate count of the bacteria exposed to it can also be made. In this way, the amount of contamination of different cooking utensils and dishes used in the home can be determined.

Of course, there are a certain number of non-harmful germs present on all cooking utensils and dishes from which we eat. However, when the number of these germs increases too greatly, it is a matter of concern.

Recently, a study with bacteria made radioactive was carried out. It was found that germs could be removed from china, glass and steel surfaces ninety-seven to ninety-nine per cent efficiently with the standard use of soaps and detergents, and standard temperature conditions. Under similar conditions, plastic and aluminum surfaces were found somewhat more difficult to clean.

This experiment showed that, when plates were worn or scratched, it was difficult to remove germs from the entire surface. These studies also revealed that, at times, plastic dishes had a tendency to retain germs to a greater extent, so that more cleaning effort was necessary.

Thus, atomic medicine is enabling us to better protect ourselves from the germs around us, and perhaps will some day be used primarily as a weapon of defense against disease.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON, July 30 — Sen. Stuart Symington's monopolization of the Democratic attack on the Eisenhower-Wilson reduction of Air Force appropriations has subjected him to spoken and unspoken criticism from his colleagues.

Sen. Edward J. Thye of Minnesota, normally an unruffled individual, castigated the Missouri senator as a young man in a hurry, which was an obvious reference to the frequent mention of Symington as a Democratic presidential possibility in 1956. Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan who handled the military budget bill for the majority, plainly resented Symington's persistent disparagement of Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

GRUDGE — Symington seemed to bear a "personal grudge" against the former president of General Motors. In sarcastic tones, he referred to Wilson as the "Cadillac builder," the "automobile expert" and the "wealthy motor magnate." He charged that General Motors had been guilty of defense production delinquencies "before Wilson entered the cabinet."

Finally, reading from a confidential table of airplane production and orders, Sen. Harry F. Byrd refuted most of Symington's indictment of Eisenhower and Wilson.

The Virginian declared that, despite the $5 billion cut in Air Force appropriations, planes now on hand or on order would provide a total of 27,000, or almost 6,000 more than the amount Symington said the nation should have. Byrd did not mention the Missouri, which was in itself a rebuke. But the latter seemed to subside as a result of this harping by his seniors.

AMBITIONS — As the first Secretary for Air after unification, it was only natural that Symington should assume the burden of the minority's attack. But it is obvious that he did not command the sympathy or the support of many men on his own side of the aisle. His presidential ambitions are suspect.

Thye's criticism of Symington's floor behavior and hogging of the debate came after the Minnesotan had served as temporary presiding officer, which gave him a vantage for surveying the Senate scene, as he said. From that spot, he could note the general irritation over the Missouri's manners and attitude.

BE PATIENT — "The senator from Missouri," said Thye, "should let some of the rest of us do a little talking. He should permit us to counsel with him. He should not be so impatient, and should not try to pull the rug from under us every time we make a statement. Let him be patient; we will give him any amount of time."

"I am merely making a little observation, when I tell the senator that he seems to move a little too rapidly at times. That was not by way of criticism. It was done simply in a man-to-man, friendly manner."

"Once in a while, a senator may show a little irritation, and to one who is presiding over the Senate, since all senators are before him, it is an easy matter for him to observe what takes place on the floor of the Senate."

Symington did not take this lecture gracefully. In fact, he later charged that Thye had voted against a large Air Force one year before the Korean outbreak. A search of the record showed that the Minnesota member was en route to England with a Senate inspection committee when the vote was taken.

Most significantly, not a single Democrat came to Symington's defense. It looks as if the handsome youngster were getting too far ahead of the 1956 parade—a fatal mistake in politics.

BOYCOTT — Government control of radio and television has received a black eye as a result of the refusal of the British Broadcasting Company to carry a debate between Sen. Ralph E. Flanders of Vermont and Edwin Hartley Cameron Leather, a Conservative member of the House of Commons. At the last minute, for seemingly trumped-up reasons, B. B. C. boycotted discussion of the controversial subject of "Recognition of Communist China."

The rugged Vermonters' arguments would have enraged 10 Downing Street. Recalling Britain's "appeasement" of Hitler, Mussolini and the Japanese war lords, he said that this kind of statesmanship "does not give us the needed confidence that the long-range view of your statesmen will be available for wise action as the balance of power in the Council of the United Nations."

Kitchen And Linen Showers Honor Bride And Bride-Elect

Mrs. Krieger Honored Guest

Mrs. Carl Krieger, the former Virginia Grove, was honored guest at a kitchen shower given in the home of Miss Ann Kraft of Ashville. Miss Kraft, Miss Rosemary Wright and Miss Shirley Axe served as hostesses.

GRIFFITH FLOORCOVERING MOVING!

Thanks to you, our customers, it has become necessary after three short years to again move to larger quarters.

Due to the large increase in our business we have known for some time that this move would have to be made in order to better serve you.

We have made a serious study of the situation and have surveyed not only Circleville, but the location and operation of the outstanding floorcovering stores in other cities. We find:

1. Customers want to see a large selection of quality merchandise, readily available for delivery. We must have the best in merchandise and be able to deliver it today — this requires a lot of space.

2. Customers do not want to hunt 20 minutes for a parking space for their car. Walk six blocks to the store, select linoleum, wallpaper, etc. Go back six blocks, get their car, drive back to the store, load with other cars honking at them. This indicated a location on the edge of town.

So — in order to better serve you — we have leased the building now occupied by Richards Implement Company on the corner of East Main Street and the Lancaster Pike, where you will find—

Plenty of space for large selections and large stocks of the best in floorcoverings.

Plenty of FREE parking space for your car.

Better-than-ever service, due to more space for handling the merchandise.

We intend to start immediately to mark down all merchandise to close-out price. Rather than face the task and take the loss of moving great quantities of goods to a new location. You will have the benefit of close-out savings.

It will be some time before we are able to get our advertising into gear to tell you about the specials, so if you want to buy, come in before the crowds and pick your bargains first.

We have commitments out for quite a bit of merchandise to arrive in the next two months, which we couldn't cancel and as it arrives we will sell it at a close-out price, too!

Take advantage of the buys here and looks forward to two or three months from now seeing a larger and better Griffith Floorcovering to serve you in the new location, presently the Richards Implement Co. building on the corner of East Main St. and Lancaster Pike.

The World Shrinking Faster Than The Heart Is Expanding

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—We are just entering the real magic carpet age.

Before the year 2,000 some American mother, noticing her daughter furiously packing her suitcase on a Saturday morning, will ask:

"Where are you going, Mary?"

"To Cairo," they're having a houseboat-on-the-Nile party there tonight," Mary will reply. "Now don't worry, Mother, I'll be home tomorrow afternoon."

Weekend tourist trips to the moon probably won't be popular until a few years after that.

Such ideas still sound a bit fantastic to us. But how the generation of 1900 would have hooted if someone had said that in 1953 airplanes would fly the Atlantic Ocean in less than five hours, as two jet bombers did this week in a routine journey at above 600 miles an hour.

Why, in 1900 only fools like those two dreamy but impractical Wright Brothers even thought a heavier-than-air machine could ever fly. The average man knew it was scientifically impossible.

Today the space between nations is, in terms of time, less than the space between neighbors in the frontier days of Daniel Boone. But the distance between the earth's peoples, in terms of understanding each other, is still a vast gulf.

The world is shrinking faster

Million Quakes Recorded Yearly

DENVER (AP)—There are more than one million earthquakes a year, the Rev. James B. MacElwane, president of the Jesuit Seismological Association said last night. The association is meeting in Denver.

"But it isn't as bad as it sounds," he added hastily. "Only a fraction of these quakes can be felt without using instruments such as the seismograph and very seldom do they cause any damage."

Federal Liquor Tax Cut Sought

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A reduction of $4.50 per gallon in the federal tax rate on liquor has been asked by the National Retail Liquor Package Stores Assn.

A resolution adopted Tuesday urged Congress to reduce the present $10.50 tax to $6. It also advocated a law making bootlegging a felony and eliminating sale of liquor to unauthorized personnel on military establishments.

Hashmall Loses

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court yesterday denied Frank Hashmall's application for a stay of execution of sentence. Hashmall, an admitted Communist, was sentenced in Akron to 1-10 years in Ohio Penitentiary for signing a fake name to an auto license application.

Butter shows little change in price. The best buy in vegetables, produce men said, will be tomatoes. And good buys will include beans, broccoli, onions, potatoes and celery — especially the white, golden heart type.

Many stores will feature peaches, rated as the best fruit buy. Oranges, canteloupes and watermelon will be other specials.

Polish Escapee To Be Citizen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A youthful Polish flier who escaped from his homeland last March in a Russian-built jet plane has received the right to become an American.

Lt. Franciszek Jarecki looked on with sparkling eyes as President Eisenhower signed the bill that gives him haven in this country.

The 22-year-old refugee, dressed in a dark blue suit, said he feels that "I am the symbol of the Polish people in their fight for freedom."

Short Memory Brings Arrest

PRYOR, Okla. (AP)—A fast-talking hot check artist had a long idea—but a short memory—and landed in jail.

Under the alias of Ralph Bates, he deposited $5 in a bank, then neatly changed the bank book figure to $5,000. With that in his pocket he bought a car and wrote out a $950 check. Whoops! He signed the check Robert Gates!

The used car lot owner noticed the error a short time later. A suspect was picked up snoozing in the car at Miami, Okla.

He was identified as Oliver Wendell Elliot and police said he signed a statement admitting he was an escapee from the Indiana State Penitentiary.

Lad To See How Safes Are Made

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A 12-year-old South Dakota lad gets his strange wish fulfilled today. He will see how safes are made.

Harold McConkey started his journey here once before with the $100 he earned on a rubbish collection route. However, police returned him to his home in Mitchell even though his parents had granted him permission to travel.

The President of the Mosler Safe Co., Edwin H. Mosler Jr., heard of the boy's plight. Naturally he admired his goal. So he invited him to tour the safe plant as his guest.

Steelmakers Plan Tapering Off Output

Fall To See Mills Close Some Furnaces; Demand Peak Nearing

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Steel mills will continue for about three months more to operate at the present break-neck rate. But after that the industry should return to more normal conditions.
By "normal" steelmakers mean a slight slackening in demand, now looked for before the end of the year, would permit them to close down ancient furnaces with over-high operating costs and to cool off other furnaces for the usual periods of maintenance and repair which have been passed over during the years of extra high demand for steel.

Orders for steel already on the books will keep most companies operating near capacity for some time. But several important leaders of the industry think that the peak of demand has now been reached and that new orders will soon be coming in at a slightly lower rate.

The Korean truce, they say, will be less responsible for this slackening than will the fact that users of steel for the making of civilian products appear to be near the end of their inventory-building programs.

During the steel strike last summer many of these steel consumers scraped the bottom of the steel barrel. Since then they have been ordering more steel than they were actually consuming in order to rebuild their depleted steel inventories.

Benjamin F. Fairless, chairman of the United States Steel Corp., calls this inventory building "a substantial segment of the strength in steel demand in the past year" and believes that consumer inventories "are now approaching balance."

Some steel users are going to profit cost-wise as the steel industry gets back to normal. This is because some of them — like the auto makers — have been paying above-list prices for steel. They have been buying steel where they could find it and having mills convert it to their particular specifications — paying the high conversion rate so they could get the steel they needed for record auto output.

The Iron Age, steel trade weekly, reports today that Chrysler is cancelling some of its expensive conversion contracts and expects to get all the steel it needs after September through its regular mill sources at list price. The weekly says that Ford and General Motors expect to wind up their buying of premium priced steel in October or November.

Only a moderate decline, if any, in steel demand before the end of the year is expected by the weekly. The Office of Defense Mobilization is letting go of many of its controls over steel quotas for defense production in the fourth quarter, expecting many contractors to be able to place orders freely in the market without need of priorities.

Demand at the moment is still very good, however. The American Iron and Steel Institute says the industry will turn out 2,180,000 tons of ingots and steel for castings this week, even better than last week.

County Farmers Should Inspect Stored Wheat

Weevils, rodents and heat may damage wheat stored on Pickaway County farms.

Most wheat was stored with a safe moisture content. Only safe practice, however, is to take samples from several areas in bins to an elevator for a moisture test. If wheat is heating or high in moisture, it will need stirring by shoveling or elevating to other bins.

Weevils can produce a loss of as much as 33.5 cents per bushel. The county extension office has complete information on weevil control.

Rodents also can reduce the value of grain. Bins should be inspected for holes and evidence of rats or birds.

Wheat contaminated by rodents, weevils or heating is not acceptable for price support loans. Loan inspection comes 30 days after storing.

Lewis Promoted While In Korea

Roger E. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Lewis of Orient Route 2, has been promoted to corporal while serving in Korea with I Corps.

Lewis, who entered the Army in May, 1952, was stationed at Fort Lee, Va., before arriving in Korea in January. Before entering the Army, he was employed by the General Baking Company of Columbus.

A tactical command between divisional and Army levels, I Corps is one of three in Korea. Special units attached to the Corps perform duties for some or all of the organizations under its command.

Fall Plowing Next Task For Ohio Farmers

COLUMBUS (AP)—Many Ohio farmers are preparing for fall plowing, the U. S. Weather Bureau says in its weekly crop report.

It said some farmers are baling straw and a few have begun plowing fields for fall seeding. Warm and wet weather during the week ended July 24 aided crop growth considerably but delayed grain harvesting, said the weather bureau, adding:

"Wheat harvesting is finished in several Western Ohio areas. Oats combining is well under way throughout the state except in a few northeast sections. Some western county farmers already have finished their oat harvesting."

"Commercial tomatoes are ripening in the western and northern areas. Soybeans, sugar beets and commercial lima beans all are progressing rapidly. Corn is well tasseled over most of Ohio and is growing well, indicating a good crop in most counties."

Mother Advised About 'Profile'

WOONSOCKET, R. I. (AP)—The Army and Air Force recruiting station has received a telephone call from a worried mother who wanted to know if the Army would change her son's face very much. She said her son had written that his profile was being changed. "Profile" is Army slang for medical records, the recruiting officers assured her.

General Motors Lists Net Sales

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. had net sales of nearly 5 1/2 billion dollars in the first six months of this year, according to the quarterly report to 491,000 stockholders.

First half net income was $312,845,787, amounting to 5.8 per cent of the sales of $5,440,545,856.

Disappearing Act Plagues Magician

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—George Knoph, an amateur magician of Baltimore, Md., put a suitcase of novelties in his automobile here last week. They disappeared, not because of any of that "presto" stuff. Somebody simply stole 'em. Nothing in magician Knoph's repertoire could bring them back. But the cops did the trick.

They found the bag in an alley. They're still looking for the lock-picker who left it there.

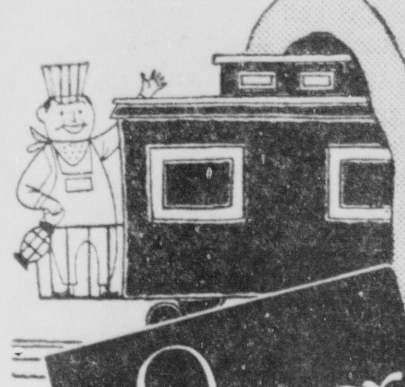

Sleeping In Car Proves Expensive

World Today

By James Marlow Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Only time will show whether Secretary of State Dulles was right when he expressed confidence this week that Red China could be kept out of the United Nations.

The test won't come before late fall, at the earliest. Britain, which had favored U. N. membership for Red China, said yesterday the question can't be considered before the Korean peace conference opens. That will be late October.

Newsmen asked Dulles whether the United States, as a last resort, would use its veto power in the U. N. to bar the Chinese Communists. For some reason of his own, he stopped just short of saying positively yes.

But he said he felt this country's influence, plus the support of enough friendly nations which felt as the United States did about admitting the Communists to the U. N., would be enough to keep Red China out.

Only 17 of the 60 U. N. members so far have recognized the Communists as the legitimate government of China. Among the 17 is Britain. It's possible, if the peace talks go all right, that enough other nations will swing over to give the Communists U. N. membership.

The only place in the U. N. where this country could use its veto power is in the Security Council. There's a chance it might not be able to use it even there.

The Council has 11 members, 5 of them permanent: the United States, Britain, France, Russia and China (the Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-shek).

The other six seats rotate among the remaining 55 members of the U. N. At present the six seats are occupied by Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Greece, Lebanon and Pakistan.

Approval of any issue requires a vote of at least 7 of the 11 members. The Council handles two kinds of problems: substantive and procedural. The Council decides when a matter is substantive and when it is procedural.

The distinction could be of the utmost importance in the case of Red China. In the past, in all cases where a country was seeking membership in the U. N., the Council considered it a substantive matter.

That was how Russia was able to keep them out with a veto. For instance, it vetoed the admittance of Ceylon and Portugal three times, Finland twice.

The reason: any one of the five permanent members has a right to kill any substantive matter with a veto, even though all other 10 members approved it. But when the Council decides a matter is procedural and not substantive the veto can't be used. Approval can be given with any seven votes.

This is where the importance of the distinction between substantive and procedural matters arises. Unlike those countries whose applications for membership Russia vetoed, China as a country is not asking membership. It has been a member from the beginning.

The question on China is whether Chiang's Nationalist government or the Chinese Communist government should be recognized as the legitimate government of China and allowed to hold the U. N. seat. Suppose the Council chairman decided that, because China already is a member, the question of which Chinese government should be seated is a procedural matter. (The 11 Council members rotate the chairmanship monthly.)

Suppose further the 11 members voted on his ruling. There is no veto on a chairman's ruling. The United States could be outvoted. Then once the matter was established as procedural, with no veto allowed, the United States could be outvoted on letting Red China into the U. N.

If the question of admitting Red China to the U. N. General Assembly arose in that body, there's no veto there at all. Approval on a major question—Red China would be a major one—requires a two-thirds vote, 40 of the 60 members.

Do You Suffer Television Slump?

LOS ANGELES — That aching back may be caused by television. Dr. N. H. Lidenberg of St. Paul, Minn., told the National Chiropractic Association convention: "Long hours sitting and watching television frequently bring compression of the important nerve branches because of the relaxed, sagging, overlong body slump. No harmful effects will result, however, if you sit tall."

Conservation Law Ruling Is Detailed

COLUMBUS — The state attorney general ruled today justices of the peace have countywide jurisdiction in enforcement of conservation laws. Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, in an opinion given to the director of the Department of Natural Resources, said justices of peace can enforce laws in all territory where their jurisdiction is not superseded by municipal courts. O'Neill advised Director A. W. Marion that regulations and rules adopted by the parks division which are punishable as misdemeanors are in fact conservation laws.

Red Chinese Top Hands See Jobs Shaking

No Scalps Collected
Yet In China, But
Commands Changing

HONG KONG (AP)—No scalps have been detached in Red China from persons as important as Russia's Lavrenty Beria, but some of the bright boys of the last three years are fading a little.

Ever since Peiping started making China over to the Marx-Mao blueprint, three Politburo and Central Committee men had been much in the spotlight until recently.

Seldom was anything said about economic affairs without Chen Yun, vociferous and ambitious vice chairman of financial and economic affairs, sounding off.

Pen Chen, mayor of Peiping but wearing a much bigger party collar, was a powerful voice on industrial, party, government or any allied subject.

Nothing big on national finance ever came from anybody except Po I-po, meteoric minister of finance.

Now months have gone by and these worthies have been silent.

This particular trio of socialist musketeers led so boldly in taking China into state industry, led the activists and propagandists bloodily against the bourgeoisie, and balanced wartime budgets by fines and enforced donations. It would be too much to infer they have been purged.

Like Li Li San, the labor minister who never shows up at labor meetings any more, they just don't appear.

Their fadeout has paralleled the drought disasters to spring crops which threaten the over-planned industrialization program; the resistance of peasants which has forced a recess in farm collectivization; the weaknesses and losses in state factories and mines which have slowed down the five-year plan.

Vice Chairman Chia Tofu, replacing Chen Yun as spokesman for the Financial and Economic Committee recently, recited a long list of weakness and errors in management of factories and mines. You could practically see him pointing his finger at the Three Musketeers.

Even Kao Kang, the economic czar who is running the five-year plan nationally, has been suspiciously conspicuous in Red propaganda, printed and verbal, lately but one hesitates to place him among the semipurged.

Kao is a little too big and more

Shutterbugs Miss 'Great Picture'

ELGIN, Ill. (AP)—Some 25 members of the Elgin Camera Club were snapping their shutters at long-horned sheep in a suburban pasture when a bull appeared.

As the animal stomped and snorted toward them, the hobbyists broke ranks. Elmer Gylleck, their leader, then addressed them:

"That was a narrow squeak, but that bull coming at us made a great picture. How many of you snapped it?"

Not a hand was raised.

Camp Perry Firing Range To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army announced today it will operate its anti-aircraft firing range at Camp Perry, Ohio, during the fall fishing season.

Commercial fishermen operating in Lake Erie off the camp and Toledo yachting clubs had requested suspension of all firing. But T. A. Young, special assistant to the secretary of the Army, said that "national defense requirements must of necessity take precedence at this time."

Columbus Trio Held By Police

DAYTON (AP)—Police said today a father, his 18-year-old son and their 20-year-old friend teamed up for a series of Central Ohio burglaries.

Capt. Harry Burrows, chief of Montgomery County detectives, said Homer Bostic, 41; his son, Richard, and Melvin Stebleton, all of Columbus, were arrested Tuesday night in Columbus and returned here. They will be charged today with burglary of an inhabited dwelling at night.

Too Much Heat; Musicians Quit

ILION, N. Y. (AP)—Chicken wasn't all that sizzled at the Ilion Fish and Game Club's barbecue.

Musicians at the four-hour affair played for a while in 90-degree temperatures and then announced that "the sun is beating down so strongly we can't keep our instruments in tune."

evidence is needed. Nevertheless, this wordy character used to be in the papers all the time. Now you never hear a peep from him.

Peiping's reaction to Soviet ouster of Beria seems to be one of nervous quiet. It is bound to have some effect, since Peiping has been preaching a doctrine of "Love Russia and hate everybody else." But so far, you can't tell what the effect is.

2 Lives Taken

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—Clarence Marion, 21, a chauffeur, committed suicide yesterday after killing his estranged wife, Betty, 21, in the restaurant where she was a waitress.

REA Film Shelved; Toes Stepped On

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government color film showing farmers how to get federal aid to set up telephone service has been with drawn from circulation because, officials said, private concerns said it stepped on their toes.

The film, entitled "The Telephone and the Farmer," was withdrawn on order of Administrator Ancher Nelsen of the Rural Electrification Administration. An REA spokesman said Nelsen took this action because it was desired to get maximum cooperation of private telephone concerns in extending effective telephone service to rural areas.

Dairy Industry Plans Sales Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dairy industry leaders blame "a miserable" job of salesmanship for a surplus of butter, cheese and dried milk now in government hands.

To correct this situation, the American Dairy Association is developing a $10 million a year sales promotion and advertising campaign to get consumers to buy more milk and dairy foods.

Plans for such a campaign were disclosed Tuesday by officials of the association and the National Milk Producers Federation following a conference with President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson in the White House.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. You're off to a NEW POWER ADVENTURE

WORLD'S ONLY
VERTICAL VALVE V8

GET behind this big, bold, beautiful front—in the driver's seat—and get set for a new kind of automotive pleasure.

Get set for everything symbolized by the "V" of that ornament nestling in the nose of the hood.

Get set for the thrill of bossing the new V8 engine that crowns fifty great Buick years with record-high power.

This is an invitation to drive a 1953 Buick ROADMASTER—where you command the power of the first Fireball V8 engine.

It is the only American passenger-car

V8 with vertical valves—for greater engine compactness, uniform oil distribution to valve stems, full turbulence in the fuel charge.

It is the first such V8 to reach 8.5 to 1 compression ratio—the first to exhaust through a muffler of zero power loss—the first with a whole long list of advanced engineering features.

But the translation of these features into performance is the real news, the real thrill.

You accelerate, cruise, climb hills with the effortless ease of almost limitless power—instantly responsive.

You barely hear the velvety purr of the power flow—yet you're handling the highest horsepower in all Buick history.

And since you have this with the other great engineering advance—Twin-Turbine Dynaflo—you get brilliantly new getaway with complete and utter smoothness through all ranges.

Want to try it? Want to take the wheel of the greatest performing Buick in 50 great years and judge things for yourself?

Drop in on us first chance you have, and we'll gladly arrange matters.

Bigger League All-Stars End Loop Play With 8-0 Loss To Columbus

Circleville's LBL All-Stars wrapped up their first season of play in the Central Ohio Little League Wednesday night in Ted Lewis Park, falling to an 8-0 defeat at the hands of Columbus Suburban Motors.

The Columbus aggregation gave the locals only one hit in the seven-inning fracas, while racking up the shutout victory on nine solid base runs.

Gary Phifer was started on the mound for Circleville, but was replaced in the first by Walt Sieverts after the Columbus team had nicked him for four runs.

Sieverts pitched well during the remainder of the encounter, although receiving poor support as the Motors crew posted two more runs in the second, a single in the fourth and the final single in the seventh.

BILL SCHEIDER was the only

'River Bass' Season Begins Here Friday; May Be Last Good Year

Circleville's annual "river bass" season is expected to officially begin Friday.

But this year's fishing may be the last "good" season for anglers who like to tie into the rugged fighters of the Scioto River just south of Main St. bridge.

James I. Smith, head of the Esmeralda Canning Co. here, said the canning plant hopes to begin full-scale corn-packing operations Friday.

That is the signal for the start of the annual "river bass" season behind the plant, where the water teems with carp of all sizes and descriptions.

REASON FOR the superabundance of carp is the passage of raw corn waste from the plant into the river through a sewer just behind the plant.

When the "river bass" congregate, the fishermen congregate, some traveling many miles to join in the fun. The fish run big—the fish tales run bigger.

But this might well be the last year for the mutual gathering of carp and carp fishermen behind the plant.

Sometime between now and next canning season, the canning

Redlegs Romp Over Phils, 13-4

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Redleg power hitting can make even the best of pitchers look bad at times.

That was what happened last night as the Rhinelanders took picks on Robin Roberts, Jim Konstanty, Karl Drews and Andy Hansen for 13-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phils.

The Reds clubbed out 17 hits which included home runs by Ted Kluszewski and Hobbie Landrieth. Kluszewski's homer was his 30th of the year and tied the all time record in circuit blows by a left handed Cincinnati hitter. Ival Gooden set the record for the Reds back in 1938.

The only American horse ever to win England's Epsom Derby was Iroquois, ridden by Fred Archer in 1881.

Yanks Shape Nice Coffin For Indians

NEW YORK (AP)—They buried Cleveland's Indians again, and this time it appeared the coffin would be strong enough to hold them.

Virtually counted out of the race after four straight New York shell-lacks in June, the Tribe staged a mild revival before again going into a tailspin.

Now, with two consecutive New York defeats, the Indians are 10 games behind the Yanks with only 57 games left to play.

The Yankees seem definitely hot again, and the Tribe would gain little satisfaction by winning the final game today of their current series. Mike Garcia (12-6) will take the mound for Cleveland and Ed Lopat (10-2) for New York.

Vic Raschi held the Tribesmen to one earned run and nine hits, three of them bunts, in defeating the Indians 7-3 yesterday. Bob Lemon walked five, gave up eight hits and all of New York's runs before being relieved by Bill Wight in the sixth.

All three Indian runs came in the second inning on four singles, a walk and an error.

The Yankees scored single runs in the second, third and fifth innings and then pushed over four in a sixth-inning uprising featured by Billy Martin's two-run homer.

After the circuit blow, Phil Rizzuto singled, Raschi sacrificed and Gil McDougald brought the Scotter home on another one-bagger. A single by Yogi Berra scored McDougald.

Williams Finds Baseball Rough

BOSTON (AP)—After 15 months as a Marine pilot in the Korean War, Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox slugging idol, finds baseball rather hard work.

The new discovery was made after he had signed a contract that carries him through the current season as well as 1954.

"It's a military secret," General Manager Joe Cronin joked when pressed whether owner Tom Yawkey continued to rate Williams in the six figure salary bracket.

But it can be taken for granted that Williams' baseball earnings from now through 1954 will total about $150,000.

Women's Tourney In Quarterfinals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Eight of America's fairest fairway stars went into quarterfinal matches today in the 53rd Women's Western Amateur golf championship.

Defending champion Polly Riley, 26-year-old Fort Worth, Tex., book-keeper, was favored to retain her laurels after scoring a one up victory yesterday over 23-year-old Edean Anderson, six-time Montana champion from Helena. Miss Riley had Mae Murray, 27, a hotel desk clerk from Rutland, Vt., as her foe today.

Toledo Retains Lead In AA Race

By The Associated Press
Toledo still held its recently-won American Association lead today after defeating St. Paul 6-4 last night, but Louisville and Indianapolis kept pace with the Sox by grabbing double wins.

Louisville defeated last place Charleston, 2-1 and 4-2. A double, 4-3 and 9-7 triumph over Minneapolis was chalked by Indianapolis. Columbus and Kansas City were not scheduled.

Pianist Travels Far For Concert

DENVER (AP)—When concert pianist Jesus Sanroma makes a promise, he keeps it.

Sanroma promised Denver Symphony Orchestra conductor Saul Caston he would play with the orchestra "any time."

Caston asked him to play tomorrow night. Sanroma flew 3,161 miles from his home in San Juan, P. R., to fill the engagement.

"Mr. Caston asked me," he said simply, "so I come."

Another 1,000 Pheasants Are Released Here

Another 1,000 pheasants have been released in Pickaway County this week by the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

But one of the birds stocked here probably will give local shooters a start this fall.

Game Protector Clarence Francis said one of the birds was an albino pheasant, although its sex was not determined.

Francis said three white pheasants were released here earlier this year also. However, two of the white birds were known to have fallen prey to hawks, while the other one is assumed to have met the same fate.

The game protectors said 500 birds were released here Monday and another 500 Tuesday, bringing the total of birds placed in the county to date this year at 1,500.

Of that total, at least 700 were rooster pheasants, Francis said. The birds were distributed in every township of the county, he added.

Meanwhile, Francis said the conservation department will make a survey of Pickaway County's streams beginning Friday to determine species of fish, how many fish are available and to test the condition of the water.

Sokolsky's These Days

I am speaking now strictly from an Asiatic standpoint. I recall my many conversations with Sun Yat-sen, the founder of modern China, whose memory is deified by Nationalist and Communist alike.

There were years when I was with him nearly daily and often he would put a large map of Asia on his study floor and point to the areas that once were China and these, he always said, would be restored to China. Two of them, Tibet and part of Korea, already have been restored.

The intensive nationalism of the Chinese has never been understood by Western peoples, although the evidence is clear and abiding.

On May 4, 1919, for instance, the students of Shanghai and Peking, from the elementary schools to the colleges, decided that the Paris Treaty should not be signed because it gave Shantung to the Japanese. Soon all schools, then all factories and shops and places of amusement in China, were closed.

This was a total expression by the Chinese people of the nationalism of a race and a culture. To most Westerners in China, it was only a hell-raising excitement started by some children.

One of those was Mao Tze-tung, who shall from this moment on proclaim himself as the Chinese who defeated the United States. In Asia, he will be believed.

Peron Hails New U.S. Administration

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP)—An editorial in the newspaper Democracia signed by "Descartes" today hailed a "new era of friendship" between Argentina and the United States as a result of the visit of Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of the U. S. President.

"Descartes" is a pen name used by President Juan Peron.

The editorial said President Eisenhower had "neutralized the errors" of his predecessors and concluded, "Thank God, the United States has a President."

Jackie Coogan Takes 4th Bride

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Television acrobat Jackie Coogan is married for the fourth time.

The 38-year-old Coogan, who at 4 was "The Kid" in Charlie Chaplin's film of that name, disclosed yesterday he has been secretly married to Dodie Lamphere, a dancer, for the last 15 months. They were married in Mexico City. Miss Lamphere is 23.

Hospital Notes 'Moore' Troubles

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—There are Moore complications at Huntington Memorial Hospital today. On Monday Mrs. Donald W. Moore gave birth to a boy. Then Mrs. Harlan S. Moore had a girl. Tuesday Mrs. Glenn R. Moore and Mrs. Richard W. Moore became mothers of daughters.

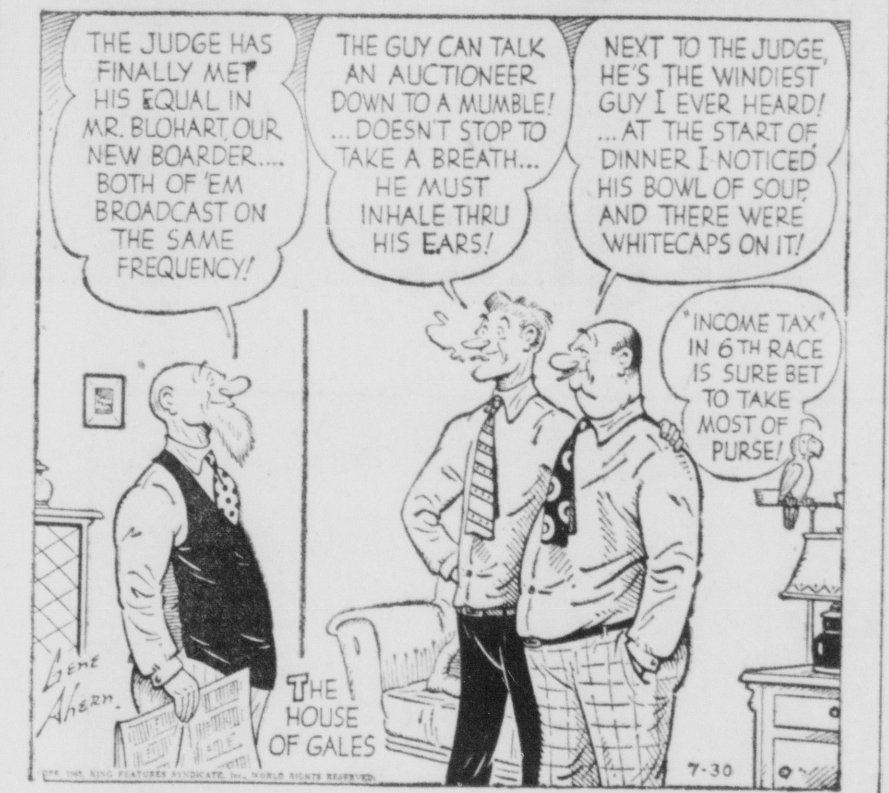

The mothers are unrelated and live in different communities.

Cautious Lawyer Describes Road

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Highways in this part of the country get run down so fast a cautious lawyer filing a suit in U. S. district court here concerning a collision near Ashfork, Ariz., inserted: "At all times herein mentioned, Highway No. 66 was a public highway in the state of Arizona, running in an easterly and westerly direction."

MASON FURNITURE

AT THE END of a five-week, 20,000-mile trip Dr. Milton Eisenhower (right), brother of President Eisenhower, tells the President that he found "unprecedented friendliness" toward the United States on his tour of South America. He later refused to tell newsmen about his talks with President Juan Peron of Argentina, one of the 10 republics he visited as the President's personal envoy.

U. S. Near Major Production Of Materials For 'Hell-Bomb'

Allies Report Red Warplanes Move South

No Formal Complaint Is Registered With Commie Negotiators

MUNSAN (AP) — Allied radar tracked large numbers of Communist warplanes southward from Manchuria to North Korean bases after the cease-fire deadline Monday night, it was reported today as the Reds complained of two more minor U. N. truce violations.

U. S. Air Force officers said the Red planes, presumably MIG jets, were spotted by a big Allied radar station on Cho Island, deep behind Communist lines off North Korea. The story was delayed for 24 hours by censors. The Allies made no formal complaint to the Reds.

An officer said the Communist planes began taking off at dark, apparently from Manchurian bases safe from Allied attack, and were still landing at North Korean fields after the 10 p. m. deadline when all arms and armaments shipments into Korea were to have stopped. Allied planes have bombed North Korean air bases continually, but an Air Force officer said "apparently we didn't leave the fields non-operational."

Meanwhile, the joint Military Armistice Commission picked Saturday as the tentative date for the first face-to-face meeting of Swedish, Swiss, Polish and Czech officers who will police the flow of men and arms into Korea.

RED CROSS workers from six nations convened in Panmunjom to chart the role they will play in helping repatriate nearly 90,000 prisoners of war starting next Wednesday.

Staff officers handling the prisoner exchange met in Panmunjom to put finishing touches on plans for the huge operation as the first group of Communist prisoners landed in Inchon en route to camps where they will await exchange. (Continued on Page Two)

Bricker On Losing Side Four Times

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) voted against the Eisenhower administration's $4.5 billion foreign aid bill as the Senate passed the measure today, 69-10.

Bricker was on the losing side yesterday on three other important Senate measures. He voted against admitting 209,000 refugees to the United States. He voted for cutting $48 million dollars from foreign aid and for suspending rules to consider the amendment offered by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) to punish nations receiving American aid who trade with Red China.

Solon Is Freed In Columbus Case

COLUMBUS (AP) — A Municipal Court jury found Rep. James J. Barton (R-Cuyahoga) innocent yesterday of charges he molested Columbus Policewoman Margaret Stiver June 3.

Several jurors said they acquitted Barton because they felt his actions were no more than those of any man attempting to date a girl. Miss Stiver testified Barton gave her the key to his hotel room during a conversation on the State-house grounds.

1953 Miss Ohio To Be Selected

PAINESVILLE (AP) — Judges will pick Miss Ohio of 1953 at nearby Mentor-on-the-Lake tonight from a group of nine contestants. The beauties and the areas they represent are: Norma Tersini, Akron; Ancl Hall, Cleveland; Patti Gastil, Columbus; Martha Zimmerman, Dennison; Barbara Randa, Lake County; Ellie Boley, Perry County; Eloise Saraaf, Rocky River; Marlene Whitbeck, Sandusky; and Sue Logan, Wooster.

Miss Ohio of 1952, Carol Koontz of Canton, will crown the victor, who will represent this state in the Miss America contest at Atlantic City, N. J., starting Labor Day.

Gas Rate Hiked

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio Fuel Gas Co. patrons in Toledo, Springfield and Columbus will pay 1/2 cent more for each 1,000 cubic feet of fuel they use beginning Sept. 1.

Ike Asking Congressional Leaders To Increase Limit On Federal Debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today recommended an increase in the $275 billion national debt limit, but a decision as to whether the issue will be pressed in this session of Congress was left open at a White House conference of legislative leaders.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders met with the President at a breakfast session which ran 2 hours and 15 minutes.

Sen. Knowland of California, acting Senate Republican leader, said the President and his aides laid before them the "fiscal facts of life" but emphasized there was no commitment by the legislative leaders of either party.

He and others said the leaders of both parties will hold further consultations at the Capitol before making any decision.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Senate Finance Committee put it this way:

"The President, his secretary of the Treasury, and his budget director believe it is necessary to increase the limit. They put it up to the committee chairmen and leaders who will canvass opinion."

Any such proposal seemed certain to stir an angry row that could knock aklter Congress' plans for adjournment Friday.

White House concern was indicated by the invitation to Democratic as well as Republican leaders to join the meeting. Normally only Republicans attend.

The debt ceiling now is $275 billion and the red ink figure already is pushing against the lid, at $272.5 billion. The next six months is a period of low tax receipts when spending seems certain to far outstrip income, and more borrowing will be needed.

Republican leaders said they thought the plan could be pushed quickly through the House, but several members of the Ways and Means Committee said the proposal would require several days of hearings and would delay adjournment.

Rep. Kean (R-N.J.), usually an administration supporter in the Ways and Means Committee, said he would "have to be awfully sure it is absolutely essential" before he would go along. If convinced the hike is necessary, he would not oppose it.

Aside from the debt limit proposal, a quickened pace on major money bills brightened hopes that Congress would meet its target date and adjourn for the year by this weekend, although perhaps not by tomorrow night.

All 13 of the regular government money bills have passed the House and all but one of them have passed the Senate. Ten have gone to President Eisenhower for signature. Two, counting foreign aid, are in Senate-House conference committees.

Pending when the Senate started work today was the remaining one: a $649,725,000 catch-all measure which carries funds for the overseas information program and for civil defense.

Two money bills, both Senate-House compromises, were cleared to the President's desk yesterday. They provide $34,371,541,000 for the defense establishment and $96,187,351 for Congress itself and the federal judiciary.

At this stage, it appeared Congress would wind up by slicing about $12.7 billion off former President Truman's budget requests and about $3.1 billion off Eisenhower's revised budget.

But this was cold comfort in view of the bleak fiscal picture for the year which started July 1, although the cuts in appropriations may help to balance the budget in future years.

Much of the spending this year will be out of past appropriations. Thus it is not affected by the amounts Congress voted this year.

THE NEW superintendent was graduated by Walnut Township High School and received his training in education at Ohio University and Ohio State University.

Fischer is retiring from the superintendency after serving 19 years in that position. He taught one year before taking over the superintendency post.

However, Fischer will continue as a member of the Circleville faculty. His teaching assignment for the coming school year is to teach conservation in grade eight and algebra.

Circleville's schools this year will begin Sept. 8. Principals of the city schools are to meet on Labor Day.

This year, there will be two rooms of grade one in the new Atwater Ave. elementary school. The fourth grade of Atwater school will move to High St. school, and the former sixth grade at High St. will move to Corwin St. school to make room for the new fourth grade.

In all, Mr. Hartman will supervise a teaching staff of 72 persons in five elementary buildings and the high school. Kindergarten classes will be held in Atwater, Walnut and Franklin schools.

Democrats Outnumber GOP In OKing Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, led by the Democrats, early today voted $6,745,318,202 in foreign aid funds to climax a 15½-hour, oratory-packed session in which all efforts to slash the total were rejected.

Senate representatives now must work out a compromise settlement with those of the House, which pruned more than $1 billion from President Eisenhower's request for funds to help the free world combat communism.

By a thumping 69-10 margin, after beating off six attempts to cut it down, the Senate stamped approval on a big money bill containing $548 million more than voted by the House.

If the Senate-House compromise follows the pattern recently set in the rush to adjourn by this weekend, the final total probably will be $6½ billion, including about $4.5 billion in new funds for the year which began July 1, and $2 billion in unplugged money from previous appropriations.

ON FINAL Senate passage, 37 Democrats outnumbered 31 Republican who shouted approval along with the lone independent. Opposing was one Democrat and nine Republicans.

Wilmington Man Drowns In River

MARIETTA (AP) — Ray Clem Dorey, 39, of 308 E. Cherry St., Wilmington, drowned yesterday in the Ohio River. His death raised the river-drowning toll to six this season, well above normal.

Police said Dorey told a fellow glass worker he wanted to swim to the other side of the river.

Hartman Takes Over City Schools Monday; Teacher Duties Listed

Assignments of teachers in Circleville's city school system for the 1953-54 school year were announced Thursday.

The announcement of teacher placement was made jointly by Frank Fischer, who is retiring from the position of superintendent, and by George A. Hartman, Circleville's new superintendent.

The joint announcement marked one of the last official actions of Fischer and one of the first official actions of Hartman.

Hartman is to begin his duties as superintendent here Monday. He has been superintendent of the Carey exempted village schools for the last eight years.

THE NEW superintendent was graduated by Walnut Township High School and received his training in education at Ohio University and Ohio State University.

Fischer is retiring from the superintendency after serving 19 years in that position. He taught one year before taking over the superintendency post.

However, Fischer will continue as a member of the Circleville faculty. His teaching assignment for the coming school year is to teach conservation in grade eight and algebra.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of seeking a permanent Korean settlement on the basis of "neutralizing" the whole country probably will be discussed with President Syngman Rhee when Secretary of State Dulles meets him in Seoul next week.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) has advanced the idea of a neutralized Korea as one which might make unification of the country more appealing to the Communists and still satisfy United States and Allied security requirements.

Knowland, acting GOP leader in the Senate, is one of four senators who will accompany Dulles to Korea. The others are Smith (R-N.J.), Russell (D-Ga.) and Johnson (D-Tex.).

The neutralization idea has received some consideration in the State Department. According to some reports, it has been mentioned (Continued on Page Two)

Ohio Loses 11,760 Proposed Homes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirteen localities and 11,769 units in Ohio will be affected by a Public Housing Administration order halting preliminary planning and land buying for housing programs.

Included in the curtailment are Canton, 350 units; Hamilton, 150; New Boston-Portsmouth metropolitan housing authority, 110; Portsmouth, 190; Steubenville, 125; Youngstown, 631; Cincinnati, 4,606; Columbus, 1,676; Dayton, 1,500; Elyria-Lorain metropolitan housing authority, 100; Lorain, 185; Warren, 125, and Cleveland, 4,606.

"If we do stand firm, no man can tell whether the stresses and strains may bring godless communism crashing down," he said.

After 10 months and 12 days, the 57-year-old man without a country today left the 6-foot brig of the Portuguese Macao-Hong Kong ferry Lee Hong. He'd traveled at least 12,500 miles — the equivalent of a trip halfway round the world — sailing between the two ports.

But the ex-bartender and marine engineer wasn't going anywhere, yet. Police took him in custody and refused to reveal their plans for him. His friends said they were trying to get him cleared for an unnamed South American country where his Russian wife and child are reported to have gone from Shanghai.

O'Brien boarded the Lee Hong in Macao Sept. 18, 1952, after leaving Red China. In Hong Kong, 40 miles away, authorities refused to accept his Red Cross travel papers and wouldn't let him embark. Macao also said he was unswayed.

So he rode and rode.

AEC Gives Report To Congress On Work On Hydrogen Weapon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced today it is approaching "first major production" of materials for hydrogen "hell bombs" and said that in the first half of 1953 development of atomic weapons has "substantially advanced."

It said more fissionable material, the stuff which produces the explosive power of A-bombs, was produced than in any previous half-year.

The government announced also that it is working toward development of a super-speed atomic powered submarine even before tests have been run on two A-bombs now nearing completion and rated potentially faster than ordinary undersea craft.

The Atomic Energy Commission, which runs the nation's atomic program, said in its semi-annual report to Congress that last spring's weapons tests in Nevada disclosed such valuable information that it will not be necessary to hold full-scale tests there this fall, as originally planned.

THOSE TESTS, the commission said, indicated "several very profitable avenues to new and improved weapons" which would afford "the opportunity of substantially greater atomic weapons capability for the United States."

It said the tests of the 11 shot the spring series, a detonation by observers as the most useful yet set off in this country had "obviated the necessity of a full-scale test series originally planned in Nevada for the fall of 1953."

Without further reference to the power of the 11th shot, the commission said it "emphasized the value of the continental test site in that it permitted the shot to be scheduled, fired and the data returned to the laboratory all within the space of one month, thus enhancing the speed of weapon development activities."

"Research continued to be directed at improvement of current weapon models and the de-

Parents Jailed In Robbery Case

COSHOCOTON (AP) — A Coshocton couple, parents of four, today received jail sentences of 10-25 years for helping a 14-year-old boy commit three robberies.

William H. Carte, 36, and his wife, Helen, 32, were sentenced in common pleas court on three counts of aiding Gordon Firman rob sleeping truck drivers in Coshocton County last June.

Firman is serving time in Boys Industrial School near Lancaster. The Cartes drew a 10-25 year term in the robbery of James E. tanks and Lorin Wharton of Washington C. H. and a concurrent 1-15 year term in the robbery and assault of Thomas V. Brown of Slippery Rock, Pa.

Young Methodist Minister Denies Any Tie To Commies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Jack Richard McMichael told the House Un-American Activities Committee today he is not now and never has been a member of the Communist party.

McMichael made the statement under oath at a gavel-banging hearing into charges that he had been a Communist. He previously had denied it to newsmen.

He accused the committee of "circulating false charges" against him, describing himself as a "little town preacher."

The 36-year-old Methodist minister from Upper Lake, Calif., began trading verbal punches with committee members soon after counsel Robert L. Kunzig started questioning him about a deposition from two undercover agents.

Rep. Moulder (D-Mo) accused the witness of evasion in his reply, which came only after he took time out to scan his personal diary for 1940.

McMICHAEL, minutes later, accused Rep. Clardy (R-Mich) of "trying to trick or trap me."

The witness objected time and again to Kunzig's reading of a six-page deposition taken last month in Cincinnati from Martha N. Edmiston and John J. Edmiston who described themselves as members of the Communist party in 1940 and 1941 in the hire of the FBI.

The Edmistons stated they met McMichael while they were delegates to the Ohio Youth Conference in Columbus in 1940, which they said was Communist-controlled.

"That doesn't refresh my memory," said the Georgia-born preacher emphatically. "Not in the slightest."

McMichael testified today he attended the Union Theological Seminary in New York after study at Emory University in Georgia and was assigned to Arkansas by the Home Mission Council in 1940, the year of the Ohio meeting.

McMichael told the committee he had already read the statement from the Edmistons, saying it was "handed to me just before I left California by a Methodist preacher who said it was a lot of nonsense."

HE ENGAGED in a wrangle with Kunzig and Chairman Velde (R-Ill) after trying to delay reading of the deposition until he could find his own copy of it.

"I want it so I can follow him," he explained to Velde. "These things can be changed, you know."

"I trust my memory and my diary more than what he is reading," said McMichael. He added: "I'm a preacher and I want you to know the truth."

6 U. S. Commie Chiefs Nabbed

FBI Makes Arrests In Philadelphia Area

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Six shabby dressed, tight-lipped men were scooped up in an FBI dragnet early today on charges they conspired to overthrow the United States government by force and violence.

FBI agents swooped down on the homes of four and the summer cottage of another. The sixth was nabbed as he emerged from a Communist cell meeting.

Hours later, the six sleepy-eyed men were held in a total of $175,000 bail and led away to jail cells, manacled two by two.

Bail was set at dawn in the Federal Building office of U. S. Commissioner Henry P. Carr.

Joseph Kuzma, 41, identified by the FBI as a Communist party trade union secretary in eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware, was seized, the FBI agents said, as he walked away from a Communist party meeting in northern Philadelphia. He was held in $50,000 bail for a further hearing Aug. 6 after Asst. U. S. Attorney Joseph Hildenberger told Carr he considered Kuzma "the leader of this group."

HELD FOR hearing the same date in $25,000 bail each were: David Dubensky, also known as David Davis, 46; Sherman Labovitz, 29; Walter Lowenfels, 56; Thomas Nabried, 51, and Benjamin Weiss, 39, all of Philadelphia.

Kuzma was described by the FBI as "associated with the Communist (Continued on Page Two)

Red China OK'd

LONDON (AP) — Acting Foreign Secretary Lord Salisbury said today Britain believes Communist China should receive United Nations membership "when the time is right."

The court recently held that conservancy levies are taxes rather than assessments and must be voted on either by the people or by county commissioners. Therefore, the court refused to require county auditors to levy a 3-10 mill district tax on property in their counties.

Under armistice terms all troops had to be out of the 2-mile-wide belt by 10 p. m. tonight. The Army said most of the Allied front was unharmed seven hours before the deadline.

Allied soldiers — Americans, South Koreans and other troops of 15 other lands — started leaving the battleline shortly after the truce was signed Monday morning. The guns fell silent Monday night.

Columns of soldiers walked down from hills they had fought and sold in blood:

Heartbreak Ridge . . . White Horse Mountain . . . Old Baldy, Pork Chop Hill . . . Bunker Hill . . . The Hook . . . Outposts Vegas, Harry, Berlin and East Berlin.

Going to the hills they crept along under blazing Red guns in the infantryman's wary, crouching walk.

When they came down they walked upright, with no fear.

At the southern edge of the demilitarized zone, the Allied soldiers strung barbed wire and set up roadblocks to prevent anyone from entering.

The zone will be policed by members of the Military Armistice Commission at Panmunjom.

The Allied command strung signs all along the border saying, "South Limits Demilitarized Zone. Do Not Enter." The signs are in English and Korean.

2 Undeclared Armies Leave Narrow Strip Of Battleline

SEOUL (AP) — Two undeclared armies—Allied and Red—walked away from the Korean front today, leaving in silence a narrow strip that only days ago was rocked by gunfire.

Under armistice terms all troops had to be out of the 2-mile-wide belt by 10 p. m. tonight. The Army said most of the Allied front was unharmed seven hours before the deadline.

Allied soldiers — Americans, South Koreans and other troops of 15 other lands — started leaving the battleline shortly after

Allies Report Red Warplanes Move South

Maj. Gen. Blackshear M. Bryan, head of the five-man U. N. team on the joint Military Armistice Commission, said today's meeting "went quite smoothly."

But the Reds accused the Allies of two more truce violations. Both involved U. N. aircraft which allegedly circled over the demilitarized zone.

A U. N. spokesman said Bryan "noted the allegations and will deal with them the same way as he did the allegations made yesterday. We will announce the results of our investigations later."

Wednesday the Reds accused the U. N. of eight minor violations of the three-day-old armistice. Bryan called the Communist charges unsubstantiated and asked for further information.

Senator Taft Resting Well In Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft was reported "resting comfortably" as he awaited the arrival at his hospital bedside today of his son, Ambassador William Howard Taft III.

William Howard Taft III, ambassador to Ireland and son of the senator, arrived at Idlewild Airport at 10:20 a. m. EST from Shannon to visit his father.

Two other Taft sons, Robert A. Jr., and Lloyd, visited the senator this morning prior to the arrival of their ambassador brother.

Sen. Taft's wife, Martha, was reported to have returned to Washington yesterday. She visited him at New York Hospital Tuesday after he took a turn for the worse.

The latest official word from the hospital, issued last night and signed by Dr. Claude E. Forkner—was that Taft was "resting comfortably" and that there had been no change in his condition since yesterday morning.

A hospital bulletin issued at 5 p. m. yesterday said Taft "had a better day" than on Tuesday.

Yesterday morning's bulletin reported the 63-year-old Republican majority leader from Ohio was "somewhat improved."

Subversive Bills OK'd By Lausche

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today signed into law subversive control bills.

One continues the life of the Un-American Activities Commission through next January. Another makes it grounds for dismissal for state employees to refuse to answer questions of legitimate investigating bodies about their fitness to hold their jobs. And the third provides for dismissal of public employees including school teachers who knowingly belong to subversive organizations.

MARKETS

GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat moved steadily higher on the Board of Trade today on reports the spring wheat crop was face to face with the most severe stem rust epidemic since 1935.

Opening fractionally higher, the bread cereal advanced until gains extended to more than 2 cents.

The rest of the market was helped by wheat's strength, but held its gains to fractions.

Wheat at noon was 1 1/2¢ higher, September $1.97 1/2, corn 1/4¢ higher, September $1.48 1/2, oats 1/4¢ higher, September 75, soybeans unchanged to 1/2¢ higher, September $2.56, and lard unchanged to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $10.82.

U. S. Casualties Reach 140,546

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties reached 140,546 in the Korean fighting that ended Monday morning.

All of the 1,274 added to the total since last week were killed, wounded, or declared missing before last Friday midnight.

Although the last shot was fired in the Far East Monday morning (U. S. time) American families will be receiving casualty notices throughout this week, as the process of reporting, checking, and notification takes up to five days.

Doomed Woman To Have Baby

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A young Tulsa housewife, doomed by cancer, is hoping to be strong enough for a Caesarean section next Sunday, her 20th birthday.

Doctors said Mrs. Huey Alford has cancer of the lymph glands. They are taking the baby two months early, afraid the young woman will die before normal birth can occur.

Physicians are trying to strengthen the expectant mother for Sunday's surgery by feeding her glucose and administering blood transfusions.

Firemen Douse Two Grass Fires

Circleville firemen were called out twice within 15 minutes Thursday afternoon to quench grass fires. The firemen were first summoned at about 12:55 p. m. to extinguish a grass fire at 213 W. Ohio St. They also doused a grass fire at 1:05 p. m. along the Norfolk and Western Railway tracks at Western Ave.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise said no damage resulted. He said the blazes may have been caused by discarded cigarettes.

Fisherman Fined

Forrest Underwood, 49, of Lancaster, was fined $25 and costs Tuesday before the court of Magistrate Oscar Root for setting bank lines along the Old Canal. Underwood was arrested by Game Protector Clarence Francis.

development of new models to meet the requirements of the armed forces," the AEC report added. Dated June 30, it covered the first six months of this year. The report said the previously announced decision to add Bikini Atoll to the Eniwetok proving grounds in the Pacific was made "to provide flexibility in testing new and improved nuclear weapons." Bikini, 180 miles east of Eniwetok, was used in 1946.

The AEC also told Congress that: 1. Both foreign and domestic production and exploration for uranium ore for the United States was stepped up during the last six months.

2. Production of fissionable materials for bombs and other uses "considerably exceeded" that of any previous period — and at the lowest costs in AEC's history "despite increases in wages and material prices."

3. New facilities entered the production stream. These included a new plant at Fernald, Ohio, for processing uranium ore; portions of new plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn. and Paducah, Ky., for separating bomb-useful uranium from uranium as it occurs in nature, and supporting facilities for the plant at Savannah River, S. C., where materials for either A-bombs or H-bombs will be made.

Regarding the latter plant, the AEC said "Some of the supporting facilities at Savannah River are already in operation, preparing materials for start-up of the first major production units at that site."

4. The AEC is investigating new methods of uranium exploration, among them the examination of growing plants which might provide a tipoff on the presence of the metal. It is also investigating the potentialities of low - grade sources of uranium, including phosphates and shales.

The report said construction of a plant in the field of military application of atomic energy will be completed this summer at Rocky Flats, near Denver, Colo. Portions of this plant already are in operation. The AEC has described it only as a secret production facility involving radioactive material.

The commission said one of the two atomic power plants being developed for submarine use had already generated "substantial amounts of power" in tests, and the AEC added:

"Design work . . . is underway for developing an advanced nuclear power plant for a submarine of significantly higher speed than the first two nuclear-powered submarines."

Former President Truman, in speaking at the keel laying of the first atomic-powered submarine, Nautilus, said it would have a submerged speed of "more than 20 knots." This compares with 15 to 17 knots for orthodox subs. Unofficial estimates have been that the Nautilus might attain a speed of 30 knots.

The AEC reiterated it had

County Woman Hangs Self On Tree At Home

Mrs. Peggy Lee Cupp, 35, of Stoutsville Route 1, was found hanging dead from the limb of a tree at her home at about 6:30 a. m. Thursday. Her body was discovered by her husband, Woodrow Cupp.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff said Mrs. Cupp had tied a rope to a limb of a tree, knotted it around her neck and then stepped from a bucket. Dr. Ray Carroll, Pickaway County coroner, ruled the death a suicide.

Radcliff said the victim had been ill and despondent. She had been receiving medical attention.

Mrs. Cupp was born in Johnson County, Ky., daughter of Albert and Julia Sparks Smith. She was married in 1937.

SURVIVING her in addition to her husband is a daughter, Norma, at home; her parents, living in Circleville; three brothers, Van Smith, Zed Smith and Charlie Smith, all of Circleville; and five sisters, Mrs. Ada Collins, Mrs. Nellie Smith, Mrs. Ellere Stant, Mrs. Sena Wagner and Mrs. Rilda Ferguson, all of Circleville.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in Defenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. John Hurst officiating. Burial will be in Reber Hill cemetery.

Friends may call in the funeral home after Friday noon.

Trio Of Drivers Fined $265 Here

A trio of traffic violators was fined a total of $265 and costs Wednesday before the court of Mayor Ed Amey.

Topping the list of offenders was Charles Huffer Jr., 33, of Orient, who was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail for drunken driving. Huffer was arrested following a minor accident on E. Corwin St. by Police Sgt. Alva Shasteen and Officer Leroy Hawks.

Thomas Swaugher of Dayton was fined $50 and costs for driving with fictitious plates. He was arrested on Route 22 by State Patrolman Gene Miller.

Denver Corkwell, 41, of Grove City, was fined $15 and costs for having insufficient brakes on the truck he was driving. He was arrested by Shasteen and Hawks following a minor accident on N. Court St.

Doctor, Dentist Killed In Crash

CLEVELAND (AP)—A doctor and a dentist were killed today when their small private plane crashed in flames near Olmsted Falls.

The victims were Dr. James Keane, a physician from nearby Fairview Park, and Dr. George Zemba, a dentist from suburban North Olmsted. The pair took off from Cleveland Hopkins Airport at 6 a. m., apparently headed for Mansfield.

dropped previous plans to develop an atomic engine for use in a large surface vessel — such as an aircraft carrier — but the commission said the design that had been under consideration "also has promise for central station power" for industrial use.

Neutralization Of Korea Eyed

ed to Rhee and he indicated disapproval. However, although formal U. S. policy toward Korea is presently developing along different lines, the neutralization idea is considered to be still open.

DULLES IS going to Korea for the stated purpose of negotiating with Rhee on the kind of security treaty which the United States and South Korea should make.

Dulles' problem is either (A) to try to discover some formula for quick negotiation of Korean unity at the conference starting by late October, or (B) to try to persuade Rhee to give up his idea of going to war again to achieve unification by force. American officials believe Rhee could not do that without powerful assistance, which they say he would not have.

The possibility of bargaining with the Reds to give up North Korea appears virtually nonexistent. This situation has stimulated fresh interest in the idea of neutralization.

GOPsters In Dixie Feudin' But A Party May Be Forming

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dixie Republicans are feudin', fussin' and fightin' among themselves today in political skirmishes which may prove to be the sound effects heralding a genuine two-party system in the long-Democratic Southland—someday.

From the plains of Texas into Virginia's Shenandoah Valley there is a stir of Republican hopes and activity.

Much of it is merely talk. But an Associated Press survey of 14 Southern and border states shows that beneath the talk and the factional turmoil there is a solidly based effort in many of the states to challenge the Democrats at the grass roots level.

President Eisenhower's smashing victory last November gave impetus to the move. It hasn't subsided into the do-nothing lethargy that followed Herbert Hoover's victory in some Southern states over Democrat Al Smith a quarter of a century ago.

Yet the reports make it clear the Republicans have a long, uphill fight before they can achieve any widespread effectiveness in local and state elections—the key-stones of party strength.

The big question still is whether the Democrats who voted for Eisenhower will shift their party allegiance to the Republicans or will quietly return to the Democratic fold.

Democratic Gov. Gordon Persons of Alabama says: "The next Republican candidate in Alabama will find out his name is not Eisenhower."

That is the general attitude among the Democrats, but Republicans contend Eisenhower's victory showed the South is ready for a two-party system.

Eisenhower swept Texas, Virginia, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Missouri and Florida out of their normal Democratic voting habits. He missed by small margins in Kentucky, Louisiana and South Carolina.

Since then, Republicans in some of the states have been busy fighting among themselves for power and patronage, giving little effort to build up the party organization.

Ben Ray, Alabama Democratic state chairman, puts it this way: "Eisenhower brought home the bacon for the Republicans, but when he put it on the table, they didn't know how to cut it."

That is an apt description of what has happened in some states. It doesn't hold true throughout. Let's look at what is happening in Texas, Florida, Tennessee and Virginia—the four "Solid South" states that went Republican last fall:

Texas
AP's Austin correspondent, Dave Cheavens, writes: "Texas Republicans are looking with lustful eyes on one U. S. Senate seat and half a dozen House places they think they might win in 1954."

"But their enthusiastic plans to nail down and clinch their history-making victory with Dwight D. Eisenhower will not be confined to a flashy drive for major offices."

"They are already deep into a door-to-door precinct organization campaign that has as its objective a militant, long-lasting machine to take over the state government for all its political power. Their knives are out and already working on Democratic appointees."

This new organization is headed by GOP National Committeeman H. J. (Jack) Porter, wealthy Houston oilman. His plan is to appeal to all who regard themselves as conservatives to join the GOP camp.

Cheavens says: "Sometimes the shades of difference in the political philosophy of conservative Democrats and Republicans in Texas are so slight as to be barely perceptible."

Porter and his aides already are raising money for 1954. They are bringing new blood into the organization, setting up organizations from precincts to state senatorial districts, and looking for respected citizens to run as Republicans for local, district and state offices.

Porter has announced, too, the Texas GOP is looking for a strong candidate to oppose Democratic

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, who is up for re-election next year.

Some Democrats are being asked to file as candidates of both parties in 1954. Texas law permits this. And if a candidate should be beaten in the Democratic primary, he still would have a chance to be elected in November as the Republican candidate for the same job.

Florida
From Tallahassee, Correspondent Malcolm B. Johnson writes: "Republicans think they're on the way to establishing a two-party system in Florida, and Democratic leaders are wondering if it might not be true."

"Despite the remnants of an old, intense intraparty squabble that has lately flared up in what may be a final battle over patronage rights, leaders of the Republican majority faction are confident they are on the way to bigger things."

"While trying to beat down the rebellious group they are missing few tricks in their effort to consolidate the other varied interests that backed the party ticket in 1952 and build up strength for the congressional and local elections in 1954."

Johnson said party leaders publicly talk hopefully of winning four of the eight seats in Congress next year—but "some of them say privately they'll be happy with one and overjoyed with two." Florida hasn't had a Republican congressman since carpetbagger days.

Couple's 4 Sons Win Their Wings

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Querns have set an Air Force record: four of their sons won commissions as fighter pilots.

Lt. Paul E. Querns received his wings this month. Capt. James Querns and 1st Lt. Robert Querns are veterans of World War II. Second Lt. William B. Querns was killed when his plane crashed in 1949.

Maj. Gen. Robert E. L. Easton, director of the Pentagon's legislative division, confirmed the quartet was an all-time record.

Teenage Vandals' Parents To Pay

CLEVELAND (AP)—A vandalism spree by six Cleveland Heights teenagers will cost their parents $5,000.

Juvenile Court Judge William J. McDermott ordered the parents Tuesday to split a $5,000 bill and pay their shares by Aug. 18, when their sons will be sentenced.

Six other youths took part in the incidents, committed in Cleveland Heights, Rocky River and University Heights. Judge McDermott put four of the boys on probation.

Ohio Payrolls Zoom During May

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio State University Bureau of Business Research reported today employment in Ohio last May was five per cent higher than in May 1952. Total payrolls showed a 15 per cent increase.

May average weekly earnings and the change from the previous month in some cities follow:

Cincinnati, $69.36, up 1 per cent; Cleveland, $81.87, down fractionally; Columbus, $65.67, down fractionally; Dayton, $82.36, down 1 per cent; Toledo, $79.37, up fractionally; Youngstown, $80.02, down fractionally.

These Days

In the history of China, vast expanses of non-Chinese territories were conquered. Again, a Chinese empire is being resurrected and the present rulers, like their Russian masters, seek to re-establish their country to the outermost boundaries ever held by the Chinese, even if the claims were taken by force, and even if the claims have lain dormant for centuries.

Remote is the empire of Kublai Khan, the Mongol, who ruled from the Black Sea to the Pacific (1214-1294). The Mongols were not Chinese, but the conquerors of China, and their Yuan dynasty did not last long. Nor were the Mongols absorbed by the Chinese, as we are so often incorrectly told, on the theory that China is a sea that saltens all waters.

The Mongols receded, degenerated and, like some animals in the winter, hibernated until World War I and the Russian revolution stirred Asia to new life. Such peoples as the Mongols, the Uzbeks, the Kazakhs, emerged anew, vigorously asserting themselves. These, of course, Communist China will not attempt to conquer as long as Mao Tze-tung remains a satellite of the Kremlin.

But the remote boundaries of Chienlung (1736-96) lie open for conquest and restoration to China. Chienlung was the greatest of the Manchu emperors, representing a race of Tatars who emerged out of Manchuria, conquered China, held Mongolia, established a suzerainty over Korea, Tibet, Burma and Annam (a part of Indo-China) and held for a while Nepal and Bhutan. Then the Manchus degenerated.

It is to the boundaries of Chienlung that Mao Tze-tung is pushing and his conquest of North Korea, in a major war against the United States, is the second step in the restoration of this empire. The first was the bloodless conquest of Tibet, over which Great Britain and India also once claimed authority. The third step will be Burma where the only resistance thus far has been a remnant of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists. The Burmese alone cannot withstand the Chinese Communist hordes.

The conquest of these vast areas involves not only "face" but also assures Communist China of a food supply. For the rice of Indo-China and Siam (Thailand) are essential to the Chinese economy, and it is clear geographically and politically that Thailand must go as Indo-China goes.

The element of "face" in this complex is enormous, for the Chinese are an intensely nationalistic people, believing that their long history is evidence of superior qualities. They do not, in their own language, speak of their country as China but as Chung Hua, the Middle Kingdom, the center of the universe. Repressed by the Western powers since 1842, after they lost the Opium War, as it is called, they never gave up the fight for full independence.

This independence they have at last achieved, as regards the West but not as regards Soviet Russia, because, from every Asiatic standpoint, they have won the Korean War, won it fighting not only the mightiest of Western powers, the United States, but 15 other countries that moved into the fray as part of the United Nations.

GRIPS WITH REALITY

STATE DEPARTMENT'S PLAN to offer arms aid to Arab governments bespeaks a heartening trend to come to grips with the realities of international developments. It has been recognized for some time that America's strategic air bases in North Africa actually are sitting ducks for a Communist thrust across the relatively defenseless Middle East.

But, while pouring millions of dollars into African air installations, this country has done little except wait passively for Egypt to come to terms with Britain over control of the Suez Canal, and with Israel, over their long simmering war.

With these squabbles out of the way, the plan had been for Egypt to serve as a kingpin in a Middle East defense alliance consisting of the rest of the Arab states. But this first line of African defense is as remote now as it was two years ago. And so the U. S. proposes to go it alone—to make separate agreements with the Arab bloc of nations in order to plug the gap.

This may not be as satisfactory as a cohesive coalition, but it represents action in an area where action is direly needed. If Africa is to become a springboard from which to react effectively to Soviet aggression, realism must play a greater part in the over-all planning.

DEBT RIDES AGAIN

IN ADDITION TO being certain that a vast cultural bog extends west of the Hudson and that cowboys and Indians are still decimating each other in the great plains states (for benefit of TV), New Yorkers have long been convinced of the immutability of the nickel subway ride.

Disillusionment first set in five years ago when the high cost of riding sent the fare to 10 cents. Now with another five-cent increase in effect, the lamentation has been penetrating and profound.

New York subways lately have been as much ridden by debt as by people. Last year's $50 million deficit was so startling that Governor Dewey decided to take a hand. The legislature gave Father Knickerbocker enough additional taxing authority to get back into the black on the condition that the subways would be turned over to an independent transit authority.

Removed from politics, the new commission was free to act. Within a year it expects to climb out of the red and to begin making desperately needed improvements.

The time may even come when N. Y. subway platforms will be spotless and unlit, the cars light, airy and uncrowded, and the riders orderly and unbattered. The

SYNOPSIS
Having unthinkingly while attending a convention away from home, successful businessman David Barton awakes unthinkingly in a small hotel room. His slumber had been disturbed by bad dreams, but bad dreams had been usual with him ever since the bitterness of grief had so completely engulfed him. It was the grief, he told himself, which caused him to drink too much. He who'd always been a sober fellow! David's family and friends had begun to worry over his strange conduct and he was proving a new barb in the gentle heart of his good wife Emily. At home once more and suffering with a severe case of "flu," David resolves to be done with the drinking business, now and forever.

CHAPTER FOUR
FINALLY, Dave consulted Dr. Elwood, who said: "Would you care to tell me about your son? Or would you rather not, as yet?"
Dave said: "I've talked about him ever since he was born, and ever since he died, at school, of a disease we thought was about licked. Pneumonia. I suppose you know my firm sells the drugs that lick it?"
"Yes."
"Perhaps I know what you're thinking. Pete's talked with me about it. That's not the reason. I'm not I expect, that rational. Of course I can't help wondering—no, resenting. It's like, say, you made the best lifebelt in the world and someone you loved drowned wearing it. There have been other cases which didn't respond, a percentage. The miracle doesn't always come off. Oh, sure, I asked why about that, too. Why in, say, a thousand cases, Tim's? But there is an answer, your medical men know it. I know it. For it was explained to me."
"Atypical."
"That's it. Atypical. I can take that. I can take anything with an answer. But it goes beyond that. Why should Tim's case be atypical?"
"You were going to tell me about Tim," the doctor said, not answering.
"He was—he'd been—17 for a few weeks, last fall. He would have graduated this past June. My father, grandfather from Daleway, my brother and I did. Family routine. I think Tim was better than any of us. He was all the things that sound sappy and are the reverse—good, kind, decent, fair. He had a sense of justice, and humor to match. He couldn't see anyone or anything hurt. Took up for kids who couldn't fight back, and animals. . . I haven't said what he looked like? He was reasonably good looking, I suppose. Perhaps his mother and I thought more than that. But not actually. He looked like us both, and then again, not. As tall as I am, and thin. I could tell you about him till Doomsday."

"I'm here to listen."
"Sooner or later he and Dr. Elwood had to get around to Emily. Nothing so far had been as bad, yet even in trying to explain it there was a certain lightening of the burden, in itself a minor miracle. Dave talked with silences between sentences, and the doctor listened, his bright blue eyes concentrated on the man across the desk. After a while it was he who talked and his patient who listened.

A week later, in Elwood's office, he said: "I'm not coming back. I've a lot to thank you for, you've helped me more than I can say in one, to me, very important respect. I'm grateful. But now I have to go it alone for a time."
He talked with Emily and George, took a leave of absence, and drove alone to Vermont to see his mother in the white house in which she had been born. Her distant cousin Kate was there, brisk and cheerful, and said Mrs. Barton, in welcome, "We're glad you came, it's about time."
Isabel Barton was tall and spare. She stood and sat erect. Her eyes and plentiful hair were gray. There was humor on her lips and in her face great strength, reserve and courage, and hard-won serenity. Dave stayed three days, spent in good talk and company and blessed by good food.

She told him, "Dave, you can't bury yourself with Tim."
"I know. But I have," he said hopelessly.
"Roots. Yours in Tim. You had to pull them up, but you didn't. I loved your father, and I love you boys and the children; and many others. But I'm not rooted in one person any more than I'm rooted in one spot. The real roots go with you everywhere. In God, they are. I tried to teach you that. Pity you didn't learn it."

When Dave was leaving, his mother said: "Give my love to Emily and all. You'll be home tonight?"
"Can't say, mother. I may stop off at Daleway."
"If you do," she said, "remember me to Dr. Newton. Want me to call Emily?"
"No, dear, thanks—I might change my mind. I'll call her from some place along the road."
Two hours later, from a drug store, he called Emily to say that he would break the trip at the school.
"That's fine," she said.

Daleway was old, the heart of an old village. According to no particular plan, the gray-stone buildings rose on either side of the road. They were in classic good taste, enlivened by ivy, still green, by woodbine starting to glow ruby-red.

He stopped the car by the roadside across from the building that contained senior classrooms, library, and the Head's study. Up the street, the chapel. There had been a memorial service there for Tim. Dave had not been present on that day, he was in New York and sodden. Emily had gone, with excuses, George, and Maria.

Beyond the chapel was the infirmary, which now had a new sunroom with a bronze plate bearing Tim's name upon one wall. A gift from Tim's parents.

I didn't attend the service, so I gave a sunroom.

He looked at the buildings, the people intent upon their own concerns. He knew that Old Boys were welcome here, whenever the Head was in residence. Perhaps (Dave hoped) he wasn't now. If he isn't, I'll leave a message and go on. If he is, he'll expect me to stay. I suppose he'll put me up in Goethe Hall; there's always a room there for visiting friends. He'd never let me go to the inn.

Almost a year ago when he and Emily had stayed at Daleway they'd been—how many days? two? three?—in the Headmaster's home.

He got out, crossed the road, climbed the bank, and went up the path a little way. Then stopped, shaking and sickened. Why did I come? he asked himself in desperation, and turned to retrace his steps. Why am I here?

It was too late; someone stopped and spoke his name: a middle-aged woman, slender and hatless, wearing the sort of tweed suit that during her 20 years as the Head's secretary she had always worn.

"Mr. Barton," she cried, and put out her hand, "this must be telepathy. There's a letter to you on my desk, waiting for signature. Come right in with me. Dr. Newton has called but they won't stay long—and he'll be so happy to see you."

"I was just passing by, Miss Stark," he said, "so stopped, on the off chance that he'd be back."

"It wasn't a chance, at this time of year, as you should know. Mrs. Newton is still in Maine closing the cottage. And parents are arriving like locusts."

Radioactive Substances Used As a Weapon Against Disease

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE mushrooming clouds of radioactive material over the atomic testing grounds reflect the growing horror at the destruction connected with atomic weapons. But radioactivity, it is pleasing to note, has been used some time now in research, diagnosis, and the cure of many medical diseases.

One of the radioactive substances, radioactive phosphorus or P32, is known scientifically, has been used to treat certain cases of leukemia and other blood diseases.

Contamination Measured
It has been shown that, when certain bacteria are exposed to P32, they retain this radioactivity. Since this quality can be easily and precisely measured, an accurate count of the bacteria exposed to it can also be made. In this way, the amount of contamination of different cooking utensils and dishes used in the home can be determined.

Of course, there are a certain number of non-harmful germs present on all cooking utensils and dishes from which we eat. However, when the number of these germs increases too greatly, it is a matter of concern.

Recently, a study with bacteria made radioactive was carried out. It was found that germs could be removed from china, glass and steel surfaces ninety-seven to ninety-nine per cent efficiently with the standard use of soaps and detergents, and standard temperature conditions. Under similar conditions, plastic and aluminum surfaces were found somewhat more difficult to clean.

This experiment showed that, when plates were worn or scratched, it was difficult to remove germs from the entire surface. These studies also revealed that, at times, plastic dishes had a tendency to retain germs to a greater extent, so that more cleaning effort was necessary.

Thus, atomic medicine is enabling us to better protect ourselves from the germs around us, and perhaps will some day be used primarily as a weapon of defense against disease.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
T. H.: Can gall bladder attacks occur in children? My twelve-year-old son has attacks of severe pain in the upper right side of his abdomen and belches a great deal.

Answer: Although not common, gall bladder attacks can occur in children. Many children who have been operated on have, been found to have gallstones.

Two lady gossip columnists who detect each other met at a Hollywood fashion show. One whispered to a friend (it could be heard throughout the salon): "I wish he'd whip up a new number for my friend over there. I'd rather like to see her in something flowing—a river, for example."

The conservative head of a famed old factory bought, with considerable misgivings, a brand new labor-saving machine at a New York trade show, but shortly after it was installed it went awry. "I knew it," grumbled the owner and phoned for somebody to come and fix the machine at once—or else.—The next day he was on long distances again, thundering, "What's the idea of sending up a young squirt? I demand a more experienced mechanic." "Better stick to the fellow we sent," he was advised. "He invented the machine."

news behind the news

WASHINGTON, July 30 — Sen. Stuart Symington's monopolization of the Democratic attack on the Eisenhower-Wilson reduction of Air Force appropriations has subjected him to spoken and unspoken criticism from his colleagues.

Sen. Edward J. Thye of Minnesota, normally an unruffled individual, castigated the Missouri senator as a young man in a hurry, which was an obvious reference to the frequent mention of Symington as a Democratic presidential possibility in 1956. Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, who handled the military budget bill for the majority, plainly resented Symington's persistent disparagement of Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

GRUDGE — Symington seemed to bear a "personal grudge" against the former president of General Motors. In sarcastic tones, he referred to Wilson as the "Cadillac builder," the "automobile expert" and the "wealthy motor magnate." He charged that General Motors had been guilty of defense production delinquencies "before Wilson entered the cabinet."

Finally, reading from a confidential table of airplane production and orders, Sen. Harry E. Byrd refuted most of Symington's indictment of Eisenhower and Wilson.

The Virginian declared that, despite the $5 billion cut in Air Force appropriations, planes now on hand or on order would provide a total of 27,000, or almost 6,000 more than the amount Symington said the nation should have. Byrd did not mention the Missouri, which was in itself a rebuke. But the latter seemed to subside as a result of this hazing by his seniors.

AMBITIONS — As the first Secretary for Air after unification, it was only natural that Symington should assume the burden of the minority's attack. But it is obvious that he did not command the sympathy or the support of many men on his own side of the aisle. His presidential ambitions are suspect.

Thye's criticism of Symington's floor behavior and hogging of the debate came after the Minnesotan had served as temporary presiding officer, which gave him a vantage for surveying the Senate scene, as he said. From that spot, he could note the general irritation over the Missouri's manners and attitude.

BE PATIENT — "The senator from Missouri," said Thye, "should let some of the rest of us do a little talking. He should permit us to counsel with him. He should not be so impatient, and should not try to pull the rug from under us every time we make a statement. Let him be patient; we will give him any amount of time."

"I am merely making a little observation, when I tell the senator that he seems to move a little too rapidly at times. That was not by way of criticism. It was done simply in a man-to-man, friendly manner."

"Once in a while, a senator may show a little irritation, and to one who is presiding over the Senate, since all senators are before him, it is an easy matter for him to observe what takes place on the floor of the Senate."

Symington did not take this lecture gracefully. In fact, he later charged that Thye had voted against a large Air Force one year before the Korean outbreak. A search of the record showed that the Minnesota member was en route to England with a Senate inspection committee when

GRIFFITH FLOORCOVERING MOVING!

Thanks to you, our customers, it has become necessary after three short years to again move to larger quarters.

Due to the large increase in our business we have known for some time that this move would have to be made in order to better serve you.

We have made a serious study of the situation and have surveyed not only Circleville, but the location and operation of the outstanding floorcovering stores in other cities. We find:

1. Customers want to see a large selection of quality merchandise, readily available for delivery. We must have the best in merchandise and be able to deliver it today — this requires a lot of space.

2. Customers do not want to hunt 20 minutes for a parking space for their car. Walk six blocks to the store, select linoleum, wallpaper, etc. Go back six blocks, get their car, drive back to the store, load with other cars honking at them. This indicated a location on the edge of town.

So — in order to better serve you — we have leased the building now occupied by Richards Implement Company on the corner of East Main Street and the Lancaster Pike, where you will find—

Plenty of space for large selections and large stocks of the best in floorcoverings.

Plenty of FREE parking space for your car.

Better-than-ever service, due to more space for handling the merchandise.

We intend to start immediately to mark down all merchandise to close-out price. Rather than face the task and take the loss of moving great quantities of goods to a new location. You will have the benefit of close-out savings.

It will be some time before we are able to get our advertising into gear to tell you about the specials, so if you want to buy, come in before the crowds and pick your bargains first.

We have commitments out for quite a bit of merchandise to arrive in the next two months, which we couldn't cancel and as it arrives we will sell it at a close-out price, too!

Take advantage of the buys here and looks forward to two or three months from now seeing a larger and better Griffith Floorcovering to serve you in the new location, presently the Richards Implement Co. building on the corner of East Main St. and Lancaster Pike.

The World Shrinking Faster Than The Heart Is Expanding

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—We are just entering the real magic carpet age.

Before the year 2,000 some American mother, noticing her daughter furiously packing her suitcase on a Saturday morning, will ask:

Where are you going, Mary?"

"To Cairo: they're having a houseboat-on-the-Nile party there tonight," Mary will reply. "Now don't worry, Mother. I'll be home tomorrow afternoon."

Weekend tourist trips to the moon probably won't be popular until a few years after that.

Such ideas still sound a bit fantastic to us. But how the generation of 1900 would have hooted if someone had said that in 1953 airplanes would fly the Atlantic Ocean in less than five hours, as two jet bombers did this week in a routine journey at above 600 miles an hour.

Why, in 1900 only fools like those two dreamy but impractical Wright Brothers even thought a heavier-than-air machine could ever fly. The average man knew it was scientifically impossible.

Today the space between nations is, in terms of time, less than the space between neighbors in the frontier days of Daniel Boone. But the distance between the earth's peoples, in terms of understanding each other, is still a vast gulf.

The world is shrinking faster

Million Quakes Recorded Yearly

DENVER (AP)—There are more than one million earthquakes a year, the Rev. James B. MacElwane, president of the Jesuit Seismological Association said last night. The association is meeting in Denver.

"But it isn't as bad as it sounds," he added hastily. "Only a fraction of these quakes can be felt without using instruments such as the seismograph and very seldom do they cause any damage."

Federal Liquor Tax Cut Sought

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A reduction of $4.50 per gallon in the federal tax rate on liquor has been asked by the National Retail Liquor Package Stores Assn.

A resolution adopted Tuesday urged Congress to reduce the present $10.50 tax to $6. It also advocated a law making bootlegging a felony and eliminating sale of liquor to unauthorized personnel on military establishments.

Hashmall Loses

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court yesterday denied Frank Hashmall's application for a stay of execution of sentence. Hashmall, an admitted Communist, was sentenced in Akron to 10 years in Ohio Penitentiary for signing a fake name to an auto license application.

Butter shows little change in price. The best buy in vegetables, produce men said, will be tomatoes. And good buys will include beans, broccoli, onions, potatoes and celery — especially the white, golden hart type.

Many stores will feature peaches, rated as the best fruit buy. Oranges, canteloupes and watermelon will be other specials.

Polish Escapee To Be Citizen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A youthful Polish flier who escaped from his homeland last March in a Russian-built jet plane has received the right to become an American.

Lt. Franciszek Jarecki looked on with sparkling eyes as President Eisenhower signed the bill that gives him haven in this country.

The 22-year-old refugee, dressed in a dark blue suit, said he feels that "I am the symbol of the Polish people in their fight for freedom."

Short Memory Brings Arrest

PRYOR, Okla. (AP)—A fast-talking hot check artist had a long idea—but a short memory—and landed in jail.

Under the alias of Ralph Bates, he deposited $5 in a bank, then neatly changed the bank book figure to $5,000. With that in his pocket he bought a car and wrote out a $950 check.

Whoops! He signed the check Robert Gates!

The used car lot owner noticed the error a short time later. A suspect was picked up snoozing in the car at Miami, Okla.

He was identified as Oliver Wendell Elliot and police said he signed a statement admitting he was an escapee from the Indiana State Penitentiary.

Lad To See How Safes Are Made

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A 12-year-old South Dakota lad gets his strange wish fulfilled today. He will see how safes are made.

Harold McConkey started his journey here once before with the $100 he earned on a rubbish collection route. However, police returned him to his home in Mitchell even though his parents had granted him permission to travel.

The President of the Mosler Safe Co., Edwin H. Mosler Jr., heard of the boy's plight. Naturally he admired his goal. So he invited him to tour the safe plant as his guest.

Steelmakers Plan Tapering Off Output

Fall To See Mills Close Some Furnaces; Demand Peak Nearing

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Steel mills will continue for about three months more to operate at the present break-neck rate. But after that the industry should return to more normal conditions.

By "normal" steelmasters mean a slight slackening in demand, now looked for before the end of the year, would permit them to close down ancient furnaces with over-high operating costs and to cool off other furnaces for the usual periods of maintenance and repair which have been passed over during the years of extra high demand for steel.

Orders for steel already on the books will keep most companies operating near capacity for some time. But several important leaders of the industry think that the peak of demand has now been reached and that new orders will soon be coming in at a slightly lower rate.

The Korean truce, they say, will be less responsible for this slackening than will the fact that users of steel for the making of civilian products appear to be near the end of their inventory-building programs.

During the steel strike last summer many of these steel consumers scraped the bottom of the steel barrel. Since then they have been ordering more steel than they were actually consuming in order to rebuild their depleted steel inventories.

Benjamin F. Fairless, chairman of the United States Steel Corp., calls this inventory building "a substantial segment of the strength in steel demand in the past year" and believes that consumer inventories "are now approaching balance."

Some steel users are going to profit cost-wise as the steel industry gets back to normal. This is because some of them — like the auto makers — have been paying above-list prices for steel. They have been buying steel where they could find it and having mills convert it to their particular specifications — paying the high conversion rate so they could get the steel they needed for record auto output.

The Iron Age, steel trade weekly, reports today that Chrysler is cancelling some of its expensive conversion contracts and expects to get all the steel it needs after September through its regular mill sources at list price. The weekly says that Ford and General Motors expect to wind up their buying of premium priced steel in October or November.

Only a moderate decline, if any, in steel demand before the end of the year is expected by the weekly. The Office of Defense Mobilization is letting go of many of its controls over steel quotas for defense production in the fourth quarter, expecting many contractors to be able to place orders freely in the market without need of priorities.

Demand at the moment is still very good, however. The American Iron and Steel Institute says the industry will turn out 2,180,000 tons of ingots and steel for castings this week, even better than last week.

County Farmers Should Inspect Stored Wheat

Weevils, rodents and heat may damage wheat stored on Pickaway County farms.

Most wheat was stored with a safe moisture content. Only safe practice, however, is to take samples from several areas in bins to an elevator for a moisture test. If wheat is heating or high in moisture, it will need stirring by shoveling or elevating to other bins.

Weevils can produce a loss of as much as 33.5 cents per bushel. The county extension office has complete information on weevil control.

Rodents also can reduce the value of grain. Bins should be inspected for holes and evidence of rats or birds.

Wheat contaminated by rodents, weevils or heating is not acceptable for price support loans. Loan inspection comes 30 days after storing.

Lewis Promoted While In Korea

Roger E. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Lewis of Orient Route 2, has been promoted to corporal while serving in Korea with I Corps.

Lewis, who entered the Army in May, 1952, was stationed at Fort Lee, Va., before arriving in Korea in January. Before entering the Army, he was employed by the General Baking Company of Columbus.

A tactical command between divisional and Army levels, I Corps is one of three in Korea. Special units attached to the Corps perform duties for some or all of the organizations under its command.

Fall Plowing Next Task For Ohio Farmers

COLUMBUS (AP)—Many Ohio farmers are preparing for fall plowing, the U. S. Weather Bureau says in its weekly crop report.

It said some farmers are baling straw and a few have begun plowing fields for fall seeding.

Warm and wet weather during the week ended July 24 aided crop growth considerably but delayed grain harvesting, said the weather bureau, adding:

"Wheat harvesting is finished in several Western Ohio areas. Oats combining is well under way throughout the state except in a few northeast sections. Some western county farmers already have finished their oat harvesting."

"Commercial tomatoes are ripening in the western and northern areas. Soybeans, sugar beets and commercial lima beans all are progressing rapidly. Corn is well tasseled over most of Ohio and is growing well, indicating a good crop in most counties."

He's Stuck Up

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—George W. Romines, 67, was sort of stuck up when he arrived at a hospital here. He had reached for a medicine bottle and got glue instead.

Mother Advised About 'Profile'

WOONSOCKET, R. I. (AP)—The Army and Air Force recruiting station has received a telephone call from a worried mother who wanted to know if the Army would change her son's face very much. She said her son had written that his profile was being changed. "Profile" is Army slang for medical records, the recruiting officers assured her.

General Motors Lists Net Sales

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. had net sales of nearly $19 billion dollars in the first six months of this year, according to the quarterly report to 491,000 stockholders.

First half net income was $312,845,787, amounting to 5.8 per cent of the sales of $5,440,545,856.

Disappearing Act Plagues Magician

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—George Knoph, an amateur magician of Baltimore, Md., put a suitcase of novelties in his automobile here last week. They disappeared, not because of any of that "presto" stuff. Somebody simply stole 'em. Nothing in magician Knoph's repertoire could bring them back. But the cops did the trick. They found the bag in an alley. They're still looking for the lock-picker who left it there.

Sleeping In Car Proves Expensive

DENVER (AP)—Robert C. Parker, 41, of Limon, Colo., thought he would save a few dollars while visiting the state capital by sleeping in his auto parked on a downtown street. He told police that during the night someone opened his car door, grabbed his billfold with $70 and ducked down an alley. Last night Parker registered at a hotel.

World Today

By James Marlow
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only time will show whether Secretary of State Dulles was right when he expressed confidence this week that Red China could be kept out of the United Nations.

The test won't come before late fall, at the earliest. Britain, which had favored U. N. membership for Red China, said yesterday the question can't be considered before the Korean peace conference opens. That will be late October.

Newsman asked Dulles whether the United States, as a last resort, would use its veto power in the U. N. to bar the Chinese Communists. For some reason of his own, he stopped just short of saying positively yes.

But he said he felt this country's influence, plus the support of enough friendly nations which felt as the United States did about admitting the Communists to the U. N., would be enough to keep Red China out.

Only 17 of the 60 U. N. members so far have recognized the Communists as the legitimate government of China. Among the 17 is Britain. It's possible, if the peace talks go all right, that enough other nations will swing over to give the Communists U. N. membership.

The only place in the U. N. where this country could use its veto power is in the Security Council. There's a chance it might not be able to use it even there.

The Council has 11 members, 5 of them permanent: the United States, Britain, France, Russia and China (the Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-shek).

The other six seats rotate among the remaining 55 members of the U. N. At present the six seats are occupied by Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Greece, Lebanon and Pakistan.

Approval of any issue requires a vote of at least 7 of the 11 members. The Council handles two kinds of problems: substantive and procedural. The Council decides when a matter is substantive and when it is procedural.

The distinction could be of the utmost importance in the case of Red China. In the past, in all cases where a country was seeking membership in the U. N., the Council considered it a substantive matter.

That was how Russia was able to keep them out with a veto. For instance, it vetoed the admittance of Ceylon and Portugal three times, Finland twice.

The reason: any one of the five permanent members has a right to kill any substantive matter with a veto, even though all other 10 members approved it. But when the Council decides a matter is procedural and not substantive the veto can't be used. Approval can be given with any seven votes.

This is where the importance of the distinction between substantive and procedural matters arises. Unlike those countries whose applications for membership Russia ve-

Do You Suffer Television Slump?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—That aching back may be caused by television.

Dr. N. H. Lidenberg of St. Paul, Minn., told the National Chiropractic Association convention.

"Long hours sitting and watching television frequently bring compression of the important nerve branches because of the relaxed, sagging, overlong body slump. No harmful effects will result, however, if you sit tall."

Conservation Law Ruling Is Detailed

COLUMBUS (AP) — The state attorney general ruled today justices of the peace have countywide jurisdiction in enforcement of conservation laws.

Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, in an opinion given to the director of the Department of Natural Resources, said justices of peace can enforce laws in all territory where their jurisdiction is not superseded by municipal courts. O'Neill advised Director A. W. Marion that regulations and rules adopted by the parks division which are punishable as misdemeanors are in fact conservation laws.

Red Chinese Top Hands See Jobs Shaking

No Scalps Collected
Yet In China, But
Commands Changing

HONG KONG (AP)—No scalps have been detached in Red China from persons as important as Russia's Lavrenty Beria, but some of the bright boys of the last three years are fading a little.

Ever since Peiping started making China over to the Marx-Mao blueprint, three Politburo and Central Committee men had been much in the spotlight until recently.

Seldom was anything said about economic affairs without Chen Yun, vociferous and ambitious vice chairman of financial and economic affairs, sounding off.

Pen Chen, mayor of Peiping but wearing a much bigger party collar, was a powerful voice on industrial, party, government or any allied subject.

Nothing big on national finance ever came from anybody except Po I-po, meteoric minister of finance.

Now months have gone by and these worthies have been silent.

This particular trio of socialist musketeers led so boldly in taking China into state industry, led the activists and propagandists bloodily against the bourgeoisie, and balanced wartime budgets by fines and enforced donations. It would be too much to infer they have been purged.

Luke Li Li San, the labor minister who never shows up at labor meetings any more, they just don't appear.

Their fadeout has paralleled the drought disasters to spring crops which threaten the over-planned industrialization program; the resistance of peasants which has forced a recess in farm collectivization; the weaknesses and losses in state factories and mines which have slowed down the five-year plan.

Vice Chairman Chia Tofu, replacing Chen Yun as spokesman for the Financial and Economic Committee recently, recited a long list of weakness and errors in management of factories and mines. You could practically see him pointing his finger at the Three Musketeers.

Even Kao Kang, the economic czar who is running the five-year plan nationally, has been suspiciously inconspicuous in Red propaganda, printed and verbal, lately but one hesitates to place him among the sempiternal.

Kao is a little too big and more

Shutterbugs Miss 'Great Picture'

ELGIN, Ill. (AP)—Some 25 members of the Elgin Camera Club were snapping their shutters at long-horned sheep in a suburban pasture when a bull appeared.

As the animal stomped and snorted toward them, the hobbyists broke ranks. Elmer Gylleck, their leader, then addressed them:

"That was a narrow squeak, but that bull coming at us made a great picture. How many of you snapped it?"

Not a hand was raised.

Camp Perry Firing Range To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army announced today it will operate its anti-aircraft firing range at Camp Perry, Ohio, during the fall fishing season.

Commercial fishermen operating in Lake Erie off the camp and Toledo yachting clubs had requested suspension of all firing. But T. A. Young, special assistant to the secretary of the Army, said that "national defense requirements must of necessity take precedence at this time."

Columbus Trio Held By Police

DAYTON (AP)—Police said today a father, his 18-year-old son and their 20-year-old friend teamed up for a series of Central Ohio burglaries.

Capt. Harry Burrows, chief of Montgomery County detectives, said Homer Bostic, 41; his son, Richard, and Melvin Stebleton, all of Columbus, were arrested Tuesday night in Columbus and returned here. They will be charged today with burglary of an inhabited dwelling at night.

Too Much Heat; Musicians Quit

ILION, N. Y. (AP)—Chicken wasn't all that sizzled at the Lion Fish and Game Club's barbecue.

Musicians at the four-hour affair played for a while in 90-degree temperatures and then announced that "the sun is beating down so strongly we can't keep our instruments in tune."

evidence is needed. Nevertheless, this wordy character used to be in the papers all the time. Now you never hear a peep from him.

Peiping's reaction to Soviet ouster of Beria seems to be one of nervous quiet. It is bound to have some effect, since Peiping has been preaching a doctrine of "Love Russia and hate everybody else." But so far, you can't tell what the effect is.

2 Lives Taken

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—Clarence Marion, 21, a chauffeur, committed suicide yesterday after killing his estranged wife, Betty, 21, in the restaurant where she was a waitress.

REA Film Shelved; Toes Stepped On

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government color film showing farmers how to get federal aid to set up telephone service has been with drawn from circulation because officials said, private concerns said it stepped on their toes.

The film, entitled "The Telephone and the Farmer," was withdrawn on order of Administrator Ancher Nelsen of the Rural Electrification Administration. An REA spokesman said Nelsen took this action because it was desired to get maximum cooperation of private telephone concerns in extending effective telephone service to rural areas.

Dairy Industry Plans Sales Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dairy industry leaders blame "a miserable" job of salesmanship for a surplus of butter, cheese and dried milk now in government hands.

To correct this situation, the American Dairy Association is developing a $10 million a year sales promotion and advertising campaign to get consumers to buy more milk and dairy foods.

Plans for such a campaign were disclosed Tuesday by officials of the association and the National Milk Producers Federation following a conference with President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson in the White House.

You're off to a NEW POWER ADVENTURE

WORLD'S ONLY
VERTICAL VALVE V8

GET behind this big, bold, beautiful front—in the driver's seat—and get set for a new kind of automotive pleasure.

Get set for everything symbolized by the "V" of that ornament nestling in the nose of the hood.

Get set for the thrill of bossing the new V8 engine that crowns fifty great Buick years with record-high power.

This is an invitation to drive a 1953 Buick ROADMASTER—where you command the power of the first Fireball V8 engine. It is the only American passenger-car

V8 with vertical valves—for greater engine compactness, uniform oil distribution to valve stems, full turbulence in the fuel charge.

It is the first such V8 to reach 8.5 to 1 compression ratio—the first to exhaust through a muffler of zero power loss—the first with a whole long list of advanced engineering features.

But the translation of these features into performance is the real news, the real thrill.

You accelerate, cruise, climb hills with the effortless ease of almost limitless power—instantly responsive.

You barely hear the velvety purr of the power flow—yet you're handling the highest horsepower in all Buick history.

And since you have this with the other great engineering advance—Twin-Turbine Dynaflo—you get brilliantly new getaway with complete and utter smoothness through all ranges.

Want to try it? Want to take the wheel of the greatest performing Buick in 50 great years and judge things for yourself?

Drop in on us first chance you have, and we'll gladly arrange matters.

Bigger League All-Stars End Loop Play With 8-0 Loss To Columbus

Circleville's LBL All-Stars wrapped up their first season of play in the Central Ohio Little League League Wednesday night in Ted Lewis Park, falling to an 8-0 defeat at the hands of Columbus Suburban Motors.

The Columbus aggregation gave the locals only one hit in the seven-inning fracas, while racking up the shutout victory on nine solid base runs.

Gary Phifer was started on the mound for Circleville, but was replaced in the first by Walt Sieverts after the Columbus team had nipped him for four runs.

Sieverts pitched well during the remainder of the encounter, although receiving poor support as the Motors crew posted two more runs in the second, a single in the fourth and the final single in the seventh.

Bill Schneider was the only

Standings It Looks Like Bums Are On Victory Tour

Brooklyn 8 Games Ahead, Little Chance Of Being Headed Off

By The Associated Press

More and more the Brooklyn Dodgers' current Western trip is beginning to look like the triumphant tour of a reigning monarch through the provinces.

It's still theoretically a pennant race in the National League, but a glance at the standings today shows it's more theory than race. The Dodgers lead by eight games over second-place Milwaukee with 57 left to play for each club.

The Dodgers could still blow it, but it wouldn't be easy.

For example, suppose Brooklyn—which has won 15 of its last 17 and at almost a 2-1 average all season—would suddenly fall off to a .500 pace, losing as many as it wins the rest of the way.

If such a thing happened, Milwaukee would have to win 37 of its remaining 57 games to gain a tie. That's a 649 clip, considerably faster than the Braves have moved so far. Third-place Philadelphia would have to win 42 while St. Louis would have to take 41 of its last 59.

Brooklyn shaded Chicago 6-5 yesterday and gained a full game over the Braves, who bowed 3-2 to the Giants in Milwaukee. The Phillies fell apart in Cincinnati, losing 13-4. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 8-2 as Harvey Haddix registered his 12th victory against four losses.

The New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox widened their lead over their first-division cohorts in the American League. The Yankees turned back Cleveland for the second straight time 7-3 and the White Sox exploded for eight runs in the ninth inning to whip the Red Sox 8-3. Chicago trails New York by 5 1/2 games but Boston has dropped 9 1/2 behind and Cleveland 10.

In second-division battles in the American League, Washington trounced Detroit 13-5 with Mickey Vernon blasting a three-run home run and two singles and Philadelphia made it two in a row over St. Louis 9-3.

The Dodgers opened up with their extra-base artillery in Chicago to score five runs in the fourth inning and added what proved to be the winning run in the fifth when Gil Hodges walked with two out and scored on a double by Roy Campanella.

The Giants broke a string of 22 scoreless innings against Milwaukee before their game was one out old. Whitey Lockman led off with a triple and Al Dark brought him home with a single. Dark later scored on Monte Irvin's single. A double by Bobby Thomson and a single by Wes Westrum in the second produced the run the Giants needed to win.

Cincinnati drove Robin Roberts of the Phils to the showers for only the second time this season and the assortment of throwers who followed the ace to the mound couldn't do much about silencing the Redlegs' bats either.

The St. Louis attack against Johnny Lindell and two Pirate relief men including four doubles, a triple by Enos Slaughter and Solly Hemus' 11th home run with a man aboard.

Maury McDermott tamed the White Sox at Boston for eight innings on two hits but they pounded him out of the box in the ninth with an all-out attack. Billy Pierce went all the way for his 12th victory.

The Yankees spotted Cleveland three early runs, caught up by the end of five and then won the game with four in the sixth.

Schedule Set For Play In District Test

Pickaway County softball teams will see action Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in the first round of play in the 1953 district softball tournament in Greenfield.

Preceding district tournament play will be the finals of the Pickaway County tournament at 8 p. m. Saturday in Ted Lewis Park between Top Hat and General Electric.

In all, six teams from the county are entered in district play. Top Hat was runner-up last year, winning the district title both years before that.

Moore's Store and Dunlaps will be the first local teams to play in the district, meeting each other at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

ON MONDAY, Mt. Pleasant Grange will meet Lynchburg at 7:30 p. m., and G-E players will tackle Greenfield Merchants at 8:30 p. m.

Top Hat will begin play in the 17-team tourney at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday against Greenfield All-Stars, and the Ashville Oilers will wind up the first round for local entries at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday against Chillicothe Business Men's Club.

Winner of the district tournament will then compete for state-wide honors later in August.

'River Bass' Season Begins Here Friday; May Be Last Good Year

Cincinnati's annual "river bass" season is expected to officially begin Friday.

But this year's fishing may be the last "good" season for anglers who like to tie into the rugged fighters of the Scioto River just south of Main St. bridge.

James I. Smith, head of the Esmeralda Canning Co. here, said the canning plant hopes to begin full-scale corn-packing operations Friday.

That is the signal for the start of the annual "river bass" season behind the plant, where the water teems with carp of all sizes and descriptions.

REASON FOR the superabundance of carp is the passage of raw corn waste from the plant into the river through a sewer just behind the plant.

When the "river bass" congregate, the fishermen congregate, some travelling many miles to join in the fun. The fish run big—the fish tales run bigger.

But this might well be the last year for the mutual gathering of carp and carp fishermen behind the plant.

Sometime between now and next canning season, the canning

Redlegs Romp Over Phils, 13-4

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Redleg power hitting can make even the best of pitchers look bad at times.

That was what happened last night as the Rhinelanders took picks on Robin Roberts, Jim Konstanty, Karl Drews and Andy Hansen for 13-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phils.

The Reds clubbed out 17 hits which included home runs by Ted Kluszewski and Hobe Landrith.

Kluszewski's homer was his 30th of the year and tied the all time record in circuit blows by a left handed Cincinnati batter. Ival Goodman set the record for the Reds back in 1938.

The only American horse ever to win England's Epsom Derby was Iroquois, ridden by Fred Archer in 1881.

Yanks Shape Nice Coffin For Indians

NEW YORK (AP)—They buried Cleveland's Indians again, and this time it appeared the coffin would be strong enough to hold them.

Virtually counted out of the race after four straight New York shell-lacks in June, the Tribe staged a mild revival before again going into a tailspin.

Now, with two consecutive New York defeats, the Indians are 10 games behind the Yanks with only 57 games left to play.

The Yankees seem definitely hot again, and the Tribe would gain little satisfaction by winning the final game today of their current series. Mike Garcia (12-6) will take the mound for Cleveland and Ed Lopat (10-2) for New York.

Vic Raschi held the Tribesmen to one earned run and nine hits, three of them bunts, in defeating the Indians 7-3 yesterday. Bob Lemon walked five, gave up eight hits and all of New York's runs before being relieved by Bill Wright in the sixth.

All three Indian runs came in the second inning on four singles, a walk and an error.

The Yankees scored single runs in the second, third and fifth innings and then pushed over four in a sixth-inning uprising featured by Billy Martin's two-run homer.

After the circuit blow, Phil Rizzuto singled, Raschi sacrificed and Gil McDougald brought the Scotter home on another one-bagger. A single by Yogi Berra scored McDougald.

Direct Rhythm Is Favored In Nassau Pace

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—Direct Rhythm, the fastest living pacer, goes against 14 other top ranking sidewheelers tonight as the favorite to win the $50,000 Nassau Pace at Roosevelt Raceway.

With two worthy pacing mates in Meadow Rice and Adio Abe, the 5-year-old son of Billy Direct from W. G. Reynolds' Stable of Lexington, Ky., is expected to rule the 3-1 favorite in the Grand Circuit mile and one-half feature.

Chief opposition is expected to come from Dudley Hanover, winner of $190,372.50. Dudley, owned by the Hayes Fair Acres Stable of Duquoin, Ill., won the event last year and was third back of Direct Rhythm and Thomas B. Scott in the pacing derby.

Last night Newport Star and Elby Hanover moved up in pre-Hambletonian speculations as they captured the two divisions of the $45,000 Old Country Trot.

Elby Hanover from the Saunders Mills Stable of Toledo, Ohio, won the first division in 2:06.2-5 and won by a head over the fast closing Shelby Hanover, owned by W. T. Flynn of Crawfordville, Ga.

Newport Star, the Hambletonian favorite from Octave Blake's Newport stock farm of South Plainfield, N. J., trotted the mile in the comparatively slow time of 2:08.1-5.

Williams Finds Baseball Rough

BOSTON (AP)—After 15 months as a Marine pilot in the Korean War, Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox slugging idol, finds baseball rather hard work.

The new discovery was made after he had signed a contract that carries him through the current season as well as 1954.

"It's a military secret," General Manager Joe Cronin joshed when pressed whether owner Tom Yawkey continued to rate Williams in the six figure salary bracket.

But it can be taken for granted that Williams' baseball earnings from now through 1954 will total about $150,000.

Women's Tourney In Quarterfinals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Eight of America's fairest fairway stars went into quarterfinal matches today in the 53rd Women's Western Amateur golf championship.

Defending champion Polly Riley, 26-year-old Fort Worth, Tex., book-keeper, was favored to retain her laurels after scoring a one up victory yesterday over 23-year-old Edean Anderson, six-time Montana champion from Helena. Miss Riley had Mae Murray, 27, a hotel desk clerk from Rutland, Vt., as her foe today.

Toledo Retains Lead In AA Race

By The Associated Press

Toledo still held its recently-won American Association lead today after defeating St. Paul 6-4 last night, but Louisville and Indianapolis kept pace with the Sox by grabbing double wins.

Louisville defeated last-place Charleston, 2-1 and 4-2. A double, 4-3 and 9-7 triumph over Minneapolis was chalked by Indianapolis. Columbus and Kansas City were not scheduled.

Pianist Travels Far For Concert

DENVER (AP)—When concert pianist Jesus Sanroma makes a promise, he keeps it.

Sanroma promised Denver Symphony Orchestra conductor Saul Caston he would play with the orchestra "any time."

Caston asked him to play tomorrow night.

Sanroma flew 3,161 miles from his home in San Juan, P. R., to fill the engagement.

"Mr. Caston asked me," he said simply, "so I come."

Another 1,000 Pheasants Are Released Here

Another 1,000 pheasants have been released in Pickaway County this week by the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

But one of the birds stocked here probably will give local shooters a start this fall.

Game Protector Clarence Francis said one of the birds was an albino pheasant, although its sex was not determined.

Francis said three white pheasants were released here earlier this year also. However, two of the white birds were known to have fallen prey to hawks, while the other one is assumed to have met the same fate.

The game protectors said 500 birds were released here Monday and another 500 Tuesday, bringing the total of birds placed in the county to date this year at 1,500.

Of that total, at least 700 were rooster pheasants, Francis said. The birds were distributed in every township of the county, he added.

Meanwhile, Francis said the conservation department will make a survey of Pickaway County's streams beginning Friday to determine species of fish, how many fish are available and to test the condition of the water.

I am speaking now strictly from an Asiatic standpoint. I recall my many conversations with Sun Yat-sen, the founder of modern China, whose memory is deified by Nationalist and Communist alike.

There were years when I was with him nearly daily and often he would put a large map of Asia on his study floor and point to the areas that once were China and these, he always said, would be restored to China. Two of them, Tibet and part of Korea, already have been restored.

The intensive nationalism of the Chinese has never been understood by Western peoples, although the evidence is clear and abiding.

On May 4, 1919, for instance, the students of Shanghai and Peking, from the elementary schools to the colleges, decided that the Paris Treaty should not be signed because it gave Shantung to the Japanese. Soon all schools, then all factories and shops and places of amusement in China, were closed.

This was a total expression by the Chinese people of the nationalism of a race and a culture. To most Westerners in China, it was only a hell-raising excitement started by some children.

One of those was Mao Tze-tung, who shall from this moment on proclaim himself as the Chinese who defeated the United States. In Asia, he will be believed.

Peron Hails New U.S. Administration

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP)—An editorial in the newspaper Democracia signed by "Descartes" today hailed a "new era of friendship" between Argentina and the United States as a result of the visit of Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of the U. S. President.

"Descartes" is a pen name used by President Juan Peron.

The editorial said President Eisenhower had "neutralized the errors" of his predecessors and concluded, "Thank God, the United States has a President."

Jackie Coogan Takes 4th Bride

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Television actor Jackie Coogan is married for the fourth time.

The 38-year-old Coogan, who at 4 was "The Kid" in Charlie Chaplin's film of that name, disclosed yesterday he has been secretly married to Dodie Lamphere, a dancer, for the last 15 months.

They were married in Mexico City. Miss Lamphere is 23.

Hospital Notes 'Moore' Troubles

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—There are Moore complications at Huntington Memorial Hospital today.

On Monday Mrs. Donald W. Moore gave birth to a boy. Then Mrs. Harlan S. Moore had a girl. Tuesday Mrs. Glenn R. Moore and Mrs. Richard Moore became mothers of daughters.

The mothers are unrelated and live in different communities.

Cautious Lawyer Describes Road

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Highways in this part of the country get run down so fast a cautious lawyer filing a suit in U. S. district court here concerning a collision near Ashfork, Ariz., inserted:

"At all times herein mentioned, Highway No. 66 was a public highway in the state of Arizona, running in an easterly and westerly direction."
